New Rate Effective Monday Hiking Cost On Most Parcel Post

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—(AP)—Most parcel post rates go up an average 25 per cent Monday in a move designed to put this branch of the postal service on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The increases will boost the cost of mailing packages by about $100,000,000 a year, to cover a deficit which has annually ranged around that figure the last several years.

The upward revisions were authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission last May after Congress had rejected Postmaster Jesse Donaldson's requests for higher rates and advised him to turn to the ICC under a little-used law which authorizes the commission, on request, to deal with parcel post.

Congress has since voted increases in other postal charges, but different bills passed by House and Senate are in process of being compromised. Among other things, the Senate approved four cents postage for the present three-cent letter and a hike in airmail from six to eight cents per ounce, which the House failed to accept.

The parcel post changes effective October 1 cover general parcel post and catalog mailings. The ICC also authorized increases in book rates, subject to further handling-cost studies, and a special handling charge of 25 to 50 cents for odd shaped packages that won't fit into mail bags. However, Donaldson said neither of these authorities is being invoked at this time, pending additional investigation in the department.

The long-standing free mailing of books for the blind will continue.

OPS Reports Wide Abuse Of Meat Laws

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—(AP)—Price officials reported today that about two of every five slaughterhouses checked in a nationwide drive were violating meat regulations.

The drive began Tuesday and so far 1,145 slaughtering plants have been inspected, the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said. A total of 934 violations of meat regulations were reported in 435 slaughterhouses.

Five new court actions have been filed, bringing the total to 14.

Black Market Indicated

Price enforcement director Edward P. Morgan said one of these indicates at least the beginning of a black market in meat.

Court actions have been filed in the district courts of Shreveport, La., (three); Los Angeles, Calif., and Raleigh, N. C. (two each); Fresno, Calif., Newark, N. J., Dallas, Tex., Nashville Tenn., Bellingham, Wash., Wichita, Kas., and Denver, Colo. (one each).

Some of the alleged violators were charged on more than one count, so the total reported violations exceeds the number of plants involved.

"It is deplorable that 38 percent—or two of every five—packing plants we have checked are violating price stabilization regulations," Price Boss Michael V. DiSalle said.

Most Businessmen Co-Operate

"When the great majority of American businessmen are co-operating and trying their best to make the price control program work, it is disheartening that so many processors of such a vital food as meat are either carelessly or intentionally putting selfish interests against the nation's good."

Nearly all available OPS employes were used in the drive to check slaughters' records, their cattle weights, scales and invoices. The purpose was to determine whether they are purchasing livestock in compliance with the controls act and selling it at legal prices.

Army Prisoner Leaps To Death From Train Near Ft. Leavenworth

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Sept. 29 — (AP) — A military prisoner smashed a window and leaped to his death from a speeding train 25 miles south of here today.

Officers at Ft. Leavenworth said the man was Lester G. Timmons, Jr. of St. Louis.

Coroner Charles Larkin said the man was a member of the air force and was charged with being AWOL 15 days. He was being transferred from Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, Ill., to Briggs Air Force Base, El Paso, Tex.

He was in custody of Sgt. Edward G. Lorenz and Cpl. Richard Siverts, both of Briggs AFB.

Coroner Larkin quoted the guards as saying the prisoner had been calm, and when he asked to go to the men's room of the Rock Island train they removed the handcuffs and let him enter.

The guards said the man locked the door on the inside, then kicked out the window and jumped. The train was stopped and a searching party found the body about three miels east of Linwood.

Windy is Right

It was so gusty along Chicago's Michigan Ave. at Huron street Sept. 28 that it blew shopping packages right out of this man's grip. While he struggles to keep packages in hand, another passerby helps pick up new shoes which have spilled. How did this picture come to be made? Photographer had just received an assignment to "make a windy day picture." He found this almost outside the window. (AP Wirephoto)

Public Affairs BPW Banquet

Attorney And World Traveler, Mrs. Stewart, To Speak

Mrs. Gladys Berger Stewart attorney at law, world traveler and an outstanding speaker, will be the guest speaker for the Business and Professional Women's club annual public affairs banquet, which will be held next Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Ambassador room of the Hotel Bothwell. Mrs. J. F. Schumaker, chairman of the public affairs committee, will be in charge of the program.

Mrs. Stewart is from Springfield, Mo., where she is a practicing attorney when she is not traveling abroad as a representative of international groups. She returned recently from a two and a half months tour of Europe, where she attended meetings in London and spoke there as well as in Madrid and Rome, as a conferee and patron of the International Bar association.

The National Association of Women Lawyers has appointed Mrs. Stewart as their chairman of the UNESCO committee of the United Nations.

Invited to Palace

On her last trip Mrs. Stewart says that she did not visit the usual tourist places as on former trips but spent most of her time in countries where the various meetings she had to attend were held. England is her favorite country and on one of her former visits she was invited to Buckingham palace by the royal family; she also visited Parliament and met the prime minister and many of the members.

The happiest moments in England were those spent listening to Winston Churchill, whom she considers the outstanding statesman of our day. On invitation of the chancellor she went to a reception at the House of Lords and to social affairs given by the Law Societies at Lincoln's Inn.

Mrs. Stewart attended a session of the International Chamber of Commerce in Paris, and also saw the Oberammergau Passion play in Germany. While in Spain, she said the lawyers were entertained lavishly and they went on from there to Rome, where she was taken twice to the Vatican for audiences with the Pope.

A hobby of Mrs. Stewart's is the

Sen. George Calls For End Of Tax Hikes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—(AP)—Senator George (D-Ga) declared today the tax-hiking bill now in Congress "is the last tax increase bill I will support short of all-out war or a war crisis."

The 73-year-old Senator is chairman of the finance committee which handles all revenue legislation in the Senate.

George asserted that possibly by 1953 and certainly by 1954 Congress will have to begin thinking about decreases in taxes.

He talked to newsmen in his office a day after he had finished piloting through the Senate a $5,450,000,000 tax-boosting measure.

The conference with the House on the bill is to begin next Tuesday or Wednesday. The House passed a $7,200,000,000 tax hike, the largest in the nation's history. The Senate measure would represent the second largest.

Income tax rates on both individuals and corporations are too high now and are going higher in the pending bill, George said.

George has headed the finance committee since 1941 except during the two years of Republican-controlled 80th Congress and has handled many a tax bill.

He said the pending measure would increase revenues to $67,000,000,000 or 68,000,000,000 a year in a full year's operation at all-time high.

"That is enough to spend in a year," he said. "It is about $15,000,000,000 more than we should spend even with a stepped-up defense program.

"There must be a cut. I know there can be cuts if there is any strong will in the executive department."

Sedalia Symphony Opens 17th Season In Concert Oct. 15

The Sedalia Symphony society will open its 1951-52 season with its first concert Monday, October 15, in the high school auditorium with Abe Rosenthal, conductor. Mr. Rosenthal has had an active career as a musician, beginning the study of the violin at 14, playing professionally at 17, and later conducting the Hamilton, Ontario, symphony orchestra with distinction.

Mr. Rosenthal helped organize the Sedalia Symphony and has earned for himself and Sedalia an outstanding reputation for a symphonic organization which presents music intelligently and artistically. It is a truism that a symphony orchestra is only as good as its conductor, and Mr. Rosenthal has brought to this music group and to this city rare talents as a musician who not only knows the technique of conducting thoroughly, but also has the engaging personality and enthusiasm needed to keep alive the progress of local talent and the appreciation of music values throughout this community.

He studied under such teachers as Von Kunitz, former Pittsburgh Symphony concertmaster, and Rochelle Copeland of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, who was a former pupil of the great Leopold Auer of New York.

As a director, Mr. Rosenthal has had much experience, having conducted at 18 years of age the Keith Theatre orchestra at Hamilton, Ontario. Three years later he organized the symphony orchestra in Hamilton and for nine years was concertmaster of this 85-piece orchestra.

The Sedalia Symphony society was organized 17 years ago in the home of Mrs. E. F. Yancey, who with Mrs. Susan Hurlbut Berry and the late J. T. Montgomery and Mr. Rosenthal, decided that Sedalia needed and could support a symphony orchestra. The Sedalia symphony was started immediately with only 15 members. Today the musicians number 37 and further assistance is given by musicians from Central Missouri State college at Warrensburg and Missouri Valley college at Marshall.

Mr. Rosenthal has contributed further to the musical life of Sedalia through organizing the Sedalia Choral club in 1946, of which he is conductor.

As a contributor to a better life for the citizens of Sedalia, through music, its inspiration to youthful talent, its rich rewards to lovers of music, Abe Rosenthal has given lavishly of his time, efforts and talents.

ABE ROSENTHAL, conductor of the Sedalia Symphony.

UN Chiefs Await Communist Reply On Changing Site

TOKYO, Sunday, Sept. 30—(AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley said today if the Communists refuse to move the Korean cease fire talks to a new site that still would not end hopes for an armistice.

"It will depend on the nature of their answer," the chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff told a press conference.

The Allies presently are awaiting a reply by the Reds to a proposal by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Supreme Allied Commander, that the site be moved from Kaesong six miles southeast to a non-man's land.

The top U. S. military officer, who arrived in Tokyo Friday night, thus indicated Allied hope that the suspended cease-fire talks are not yet near an end.

The talks have been suspended by the Reds since Aug. 23 while they wrangled over a series of charges that the Allies had violated the Kaesong neutral zone.

Reds Predict UN Landings

Saturday Peiping radio, silent on Ridgway's new site proposal, stressed instead a prediction the Allies were planning amphibious landings on both coasts of Korea. The broadcast blamed the Allies for "wrecking" the talks on an armistice.

The Allies had no immediate comment on the Red assertions.

"In order to conquer the whole of North Korea," the Chinese Red radio charged, "the Americans have decided to train five more divisions, drive the (North) Chinese forces to the Yalu river and bomb Communist bases in northeast China."

The Yalu is the boundary between North Korea and Manchuria.

Two Divisions Groomed

The broadcast alleged that two National Guard divisions now training in Japan—the 40th of California and the 45th of Oklahoma—were being groomed for the landings. Commanders of the two divisions recently visited Korea "for a first-hand survey," the broadcast charged.

"The 40th Infantry Division, which recently undertook large-scale landing attack maneuvers, now is starting another . . . training project," Peiping radio said. "Part of the U. S. 45th Division and paratroop units in Japan are undergoing training also."

The broadcast said the Allies have been strengthened in recent weeks by the transfer of two new U. S. fighter and bomber wings to Japan from U. S. bases and by new additions to naval forces. The radio mentioned the U. S. aircraft carrier Essex, which has been in action off Korea for weeks.

Wonsan A Prime Spot

The Red radio indicated amphibious landings were expected at Wonsan, on the east coast, and in the Chinnampo area on the west coast. It said Allied units had been "intensifying their probing operations" in these areas "since the American wrecking of the Kaesong negotiations."

Wonsan, major North Korean port, has been under Allied naval bombardment continuously for months.

Iran To Fight UN Mediation In Oil Dispute

TEHRAN, Iran, Sept. 29—(AP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh decided today to wage a personal fight before the Security Council against Britain's demand for U. N. intervention in the British-Iranian oil dispute.

The news that British delegate Sir Gladwyn Jebb will ask the Council Monday to overrule Mossadegh's order for ousting the last British technicians from the Abadan refinery visibly surprised and worried advisers of the ailing old Nationalist leader.

The government announced Mossadegh's decision to fly to New York.

His regular delegate to the U. N. is Nasrollah Entezam, a suave professional diplomat who is president of the General Assembly and Iranian ambassador to Washington.

The British appeal, disclosed in London early today, is likely to postpone the final showdown on a row that started with nationalization of Iranian properties of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian oil company six months ago.

Deputy Premier Hossein Fatemi told newsmen there will be no change in the order for the 300-odd Britons remaining at troop-guarded Abadan to clear out by Thursday, regardless of the hearing.

But Iran will be in a difficult position if she should flout a Security Council order to delay the expulsions. Iranians have not forgotten it was the Security Council, under American pressure, which forced Russia's postwar garrisons out of the northern province of Azerbaijan in 1946.

U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson saw Mossadegh Friday night. An embassy spokesman said Henderson told the premier orally of American opposition to the expulsion of the technicians.

Two Women Die In Car Accident Near St. Joseph

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 29—(AP)—Two women were killed today in a motor car-truck accident near the south junction of U. S. highways 71 and 169.

The victims were Mrs. Charles Powell, 40, Agency, Mo., and her 18-year-old daughter, Rosalie.

Another daughter, Mildred seven was injured critically.

Cliff Price, Paola, Kas., driver of the truck, said the Powell's car made a left turn in front of him as the vehicles approached from opposite directions. After the collision, Price's truck traveled through a filling station, shearing off two pumps. Firemen were called to extinguish the resulting blaze.

Tanks Back UN Advance On 2 Fronts

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Sunday, Sept. 30—(AP)—Allied tanks and troops, backed by artillery, assaulted peaks in central and eastern Korea Saturday against bitterly resisting Reds.

The attackers swept up rain-drenched heights west of Chorwon in central Korea and won them in a 15-hour battle, a field dispatch said.

The assault in the east, near "Heartbreak Ridge," met tougher going in the face of withering Communist artillery fire.

Bodies of 552 Reds were bunched around the top of one captured peak.

U. N. Attacks 'Limited'

An Allied communique today said "action flared along most of the Korean battlefront yesterday (Saturday) with United Nations elements continuing their limited objective attacks."

The dominating heights seized in central Korea were just west of the old "Iron Triangle," a former massing area for the Communists.

The Allies dug in on the peaks, expecting Red counterattacks.

In western Korea, near Yonchon, 35 miles north of Seoul, a single Red plane raided Allied positions last night and dropped one bomb. No results were reported.

The limited but bitter fight west of Chorwon involved an artillery duel. Allied tanks and planes also supported the U. N. infantrymen despite a rainstorm.

Chorwon, southwest base of the "Iron Triangle," is 19 miles north of parallel 38 in central Korea.

Reds Fight Tenaciously

AP correspondent George McArthur, reporting from that front in a Saturday - dated dispatch, said:

"The Communists fought tenaciously for the peaks, firing from dirt and timber bunkers until they were blasted out by Allied artillery or grenade-hurling infantrymen.

"The assault began at 2 a. m. this (Saturday) morning and raged until 4:30 p. m. this afternoon.

"An estimated 200 Chinese Communists were killed atop the scarred slopes and Allied artillery claimed 40 more dead of the original 600 defenders."

McArthur said "the peaks taken by the Allied troops dominate an area of the 'iron triangle' where the Reds have been extremely sensitive in the past few days."

Attack Starts At Dawn

Over in the east near "Heartbreak Ridge," U. S. Sherman tanks and Ninth Infantry Regiment troops stormed a hill at dawn Saturday.

By nightfall, the attackers were only a few yards from the top where intense Red artillery fire stalled them.

Marine Corsair fighters, despite rain and low ceiling, swept in on the attacked height, dropping 100-pound bombs and napalm (jellied gasoline).

Collect Clothing For Korea Today

The Clothing for Korea Collection will begin at 9 o'clock this morning and clothes should be placed at the curb where it will be picked up by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of its president, James L. Van Wagner, Jr.

Figures in Argentine Revolt

President Juan D. Peron of Argentina, right, proclaimed a state of internal war throughout the country after two retired Argentine Generals led a revolt against him. The rebellion reportedly was caused by the Army's opposition to the political activities of Evita Peron, left, colorful wife of the President.

Gabrielson Goes On Carpet Thursday

Boyle Presents Tax Returns To Senate Probe Committee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—(AP)—William M. Boyle, Jr., Democratic National Chairman, today opened his entire 1949 and 1950 income tax returns to a Senate investigation of his affairs.

His sudden move came as a special investigations subcommittee conducting the inquiry announced it will call Guy Gabrielson, Republican National Chairman, Thursday as the opening witness in an inquiry into Gabrielson's activities.

In each case the committee is looking into the party chairman's contacts with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC).

Both men have denied any improper conduct or influence on RFC loans, Boyle as a witness before the Senators at public hearings earlier this week.

No Basis Says Boyle

Boyle swore there was no basis for charges published by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch that he accepted $8,000 from American Lithofold Corp. after the St. Louis printing firm obtained $565,000 of government loans in 1949. He said the firm paid him $1,250 retainer fees as a lawyer, before he became a salaried party official, and that the fees had nothing to do with the loans.

The investigation has been marked by testimony that Lithofold paid big fees to a variety of government employes while they were on the federal payrolls, for drumming up profitable printing contracts for the firm—a practice the committee gave advance warning it would condemn.

Gabrielson has been under fire from some members of his own party in the Senate, who demanded his resignation as GOP chairman because of his acknowledged intercessions with the RFC in connection with $18,500,000 loans to Carthage Hydrocol, Inc., of which he is president and general counsel.

Williams Guns For Gabrielson

Senator Williams, (R-Del), sparking a drive to unseat Gabrielson, has challenged the chairman's contentions that he had a perfect right, as a business man and not as party chairman, to seek modification of the terms of the loans to his firm.

In today's developments in the two cases:

1. Senator Hoey (D-NC), head of the investigation, announced Boyle had withdrawn objections to a full search through his income tax returns. Boyle earlier had refused to allow the group to look into portions dealing with his investments and certain other income.

2. Staff investigators for the committee began searching through Boyle's bank account records, placed under subponea yesterday.

3. Hoey said he will propose winding up the Boyle hearings Wednesday, with the testimony of Miss Jeanette Boon, a former Lithofold bookkeeper unless something meanwhile develops to open new lines for inquiry. Senator Mundt (R-SD), a committee member, said he would counter-propose a recess to make way for the Gabrielson hearing, with later hearings on Boyle.

Cockrell Asks British To Support His Plan For Peace In World

LONDON, Sept. 29—(AP)—Ewing Cockrell, a former Missouri Circuit Judge, asked Prime Minister Attlee and Conservative leader Winston Churchill today to support his plan for universal disarmament and an international police force.

Cockrell, 77, is one of nine Americans nominated in February for the 1951 Nobel peace prize. Born at Warrensburg, Mo., he has campaigned for peace for 10 years. He now lives in Washington.

He wants to establish through the United Nations a police force formed by mutual agreement of nations. Its members would have first allegiance to the United Nations.

The force, Cockrell told the British leaders by mail, would be strong enough to put down law-breaking and control atomic energy after universal disarmament is effected.

Stadium Fund On Saturday Hit $15,373.64

Saturday the returns of the Stadium Day Drive for the Jaynes Foundation Fund had reached $15,373.64 in cash and pledges, according to Joe Benson, chairman of the drive.

Monday there will be a clean-up campaign with workers going out again to see people who have not yet been contacted.

Mr. Benson stated that he was pleased with the drive so far and that he expected by Monday the funds would reach two-thirds of the goal. "We will still have the hill to climb" he said, "And that is always the hardest." So those who have not given are asked to do what they can and give, or pledge, as early as possible this week.

They May Spend Christmas In Jeff City

Redistricting Fight Snarls State Legislature Routine

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 29—(AP)—When will Missouri's unpredictable legislature wind-up?

Many observers feel as though they were watching an old-fashioned boxing match. People on the sidelines have forgotten what round it is as the fight wears on.

As this week closed the legislature entered its tenth month. Action in the Senate is snarled while the members await passage of a congressional redistricting bill. The bill has been given priority over all other legislation and nothing else has been discussed since the Senate reconvened Sept. 10.

The majority floor leader, Sen. Richard J. Chamier (D) of Moberly, has promised that the bills left over from last spring can be trotted out as soon as action—one way or another — is taken on congressional redistricting.

Smith Thinks Otherwise

But Senator R. Jasper Smith (R) of Springfield, minority leader, thinks otherwise. He declared: "I suspect that after redistricting is disposed of some other legislation will take precedence over everything else."

He said it wouldn't surprise him if the full calendar was never opened up for debate.

Smith pointed to other issues now pending, the highway revenue bills for instance. He said he believed the Democrats would do with them just what they have done with redistricting — stop everything.

Sen. William M. Quin (D) Maywood, president pro tem, is confident the legislature will be able to wind things up by December 15—in time for a Merry Christmas at home without worrying about coming back to the capital city.

But most legislators just smile at the question and refuse to stick their necks out about when the General Assembly will quit.

The House recessed two weeks ago hoping that some of the controversial bills would be sent over from the Senate. When they returned they found the Senate's wheels stuck in the same old rut.

So they tied things down even more by shelving all Senate bills until the Senate acts on some House legislation. Then they again recessed until the redistricting bill is ready for debate in the House. That will be two weeks more, at least.

Senator Chamier was attacked bitterly by the Republican minority for closing the calendar.

Senator Quinn blamed bad attendance for much of the slow going. He said if the Senate and House would work steadily from Monday to Thursday every week they would be able to quit early.

Peron Tightens His Grip

Rebellion Causes Strict Clamp-Down By Argentine Chief

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Sept. 29—(AP)—President Peron tightened his grip on the nation today, six weeks in advance of the presidential election, as a result of the ill-starred military revolt announced by the government Friday.

The presidential press office disclosed without explanation the resignation of the 59-year-old Navy Minister, Adm. Enrique B. Garcia, and his replacement by a Navy Captain, Anibal O. Olivieri, the former undersecretary.

It was not known whether the ministers quit under pressure or as a gesture of self-blame because some naval air officers were reported to have joined in the revolt—a revolt which the newspaper El Laborista said resulted in one killed and seven wounded.

The Socialist and radical parties, chief political opposition, reported several of their prominent members were under arrest.

That the government intended to take the strongest steps to avoid the escape of persons accused of the plot, described by Peron as traitors and cowards, was evidenced by the placing of heavy guards around all embassy offices and residences to prevent rebellious officers from taking refuge under diplomatic immunity.

The plot, which Peron said aimed at the assassination of himself and his glamorous wife, Eva, seemed to have strengthened his hand for re-election Nov. 11.

Marines Seek 9,900 Men In December

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—(AP)—The Marines for the first time are seeking more draftees than the Army in the comparatively small December call of 16,900.

The Defense Department announced today the Marines want 9,900 men from Selective Service in December, the Army 7,000.

Its also announced the November call has been increased from 33,700 to 39,000 due to requests by the Marine Corps to boost its total for November from 4,700 to 10,000. It was the second month in a row the Marines had increased original requests.

These developments were taken by some as an indication the Marines have begun an expansion of major combat unit strength beyond the present two divisions. Such a plan is known to be under consideration.

Admiral William Fechteler, chief of naval operations, told a news conference earlier this month "we might plan to go to three divisions."

However, Marine headquarters today said the increases are due to recent authorization by President Truman to permit the corps to go from 204,000 men to 236,000. Also, Marine enlistments have admittedly dropped.

The 55,900 draft total for November and December may dip into new classifications—childless married men, certain aliens and others formerly deferred.

Disqualifies In Suit Over Strike

MOBERLY, Mo., Sept. 29—(AP)—Circuit Court Judge Lawrence Holman disqualified himself today from hearing a suit filed by city officials in an effort to end an 11-day strike of approximately 20 health and street department employees.

Judge Holman disqualified himself first as "an interested citizen," second, "because of the possibility of being influenced by discussions among other citizens," third, because he is to serve on a St. Louis Court of Appeals next week, and fourth, "because City Manager H. P. Phelan is my wife's uncle."

City Attorney Marion E. Lamb and the city's special counsel, Walter L. Roos of St. Louis, filed the suit in Circuit Court earlier in the day. They sought an injunction against the strikers and asked the court to determine the right of municipal employes to strike and maintain picket lines.

Judge Holman said he was notifying Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, George Robb Ellison, of his action.

The court, he said, would transfer another judge here. Judge Holman also said he was conveying to the chief justice a request of the city attorneys to have a judge here Monday. If another judge cannot be sent here Monday, the attorneys have requested a hearing on Thursday.

Civil War Veteran Dies At Age Of 105

KING, Wis., Sept. 29—(AP)—Lansing A. Wilcox, Wisconsin's last Civil War veteran, died at the Grand Army Home today at the age of 105. He was a former National Senior Vice Commander of the GAR.

Wilcox had been in failing health for some time but had been able to sit up in a wheelchair nearly every day until recently. He greeted delegations from various veterans' organizations on the occasion of his 105th birthday last March.

REAL ESTATE

Transfers

Fall is the season when all good homemakers cast a critical eye on their homes. The first crisp, cool days of autumn make us conscious that the time has come to freshen and replace worn furnishings in preparation for more living and entertaining indoors.

Home furnishings manufacturers and retailers make it easy for the homemaker to see al lthe new things she wants and needs for her home by working together during the important annual event, Home Fashion Time. Having started this fall on September 20 and continuing until September 29, Home Fashion Time is being observed in thousands of retail home furnishings stores and departments across the country. During this period all home furnishings will put their best foot forward to assist Mrs. America in making selections of things she needs and wants for her home.

What's under the best foot is big news this fall. The collections are top-flight in design, style, color and value. The new carpets and rugs are a key to achieving "extended" living areas.

Today's trend for living all over the house makes all rooms equally important. We find bedrooms, dining rooms and dining areas doubling as an extra sitting room or study "Extended" living areas need to present a well-groomed air for public appearances.

A well-chosen soft floor covering is an important step in enlarging the living area in a home without the fuss or expense of structural changes. The new carpet and rug designs which are featured during Home Fashion Time lean heavily toward casual dsigns so popular for informal living arrangements.

Designs are less complicated, showing an interesting trend for the hand-crafted look. New texture weaves in wool, blends of wool and carpet rayon, and in woven cotton carpetings offer the homemaker an almost endless variety to choose from.

Small scale abstract designs are coming to the fore. These designs are easy to live with and easy to care for, showing a minimum amount of soil under heavy daily traffic.

Texture weaves are more imaginative than ever. Some developed in vari-colored effects are smart, colorful and fresh looking. For those who prefer pattern, charming florals are available. These, too, have a definitely third dimensional appearance.

Homespun and provincial designs with emphasis on tweedy effects are very appealing and come in a variety of colors. These are very effective with informal modern, provincial or ranch house interiors.

In line with the manufacturers' desire to produce well-styled, luxurious looking carpets and rugs at a price, some well established all-wood grades feature the addition of carpet rayon, that miracle man-made fiber designed expressly for floor coverings. These wool and carpet rayon and 100 per cent carpet rayon floor coverings answer three important consumer demands: clarity of color, longer wearing qualities and lower prices.

Many of the new cotton carpets and rugs are made on broadloom widths and woven on standard carpet looms. Great ingenuity has been shown in these new cotton carpets and rugs. Sculptured and embossed effects and novel texture weaves are the rule rather than the exception. Manufacturers' tests show that woven cotton carpets and rugs wear and clean as well as carpets of a comparable quality in other materials.

Carpet colors closely follow the color trends in other home furnishings. Green has reached the top of the list. Deep forest green, blue spruce, leaf and spring greens are to be found in all lines. The light beige to deep brown group is still moving steadily ahead. Grey is in third place. A new silver grey is a lovely foundation color.

Hay in Rain

HAMPDEN, Mass. — (AP)—The old adage about making hay while the sun shines doesn't mean a thing to farmer Walter Labodycz who harvest 700 tons a year. He makes hay while it rains, too. Says it's even better that way.

The Labodycz family adopted the different method of curing hay during the rainy summer of 1945. He decided to experiment—storing five tons of hay in an unlined earthen trench. He says he was the first farmer in New England to try it.

The results, he reported afterward, were highly satisfactory. When he fed it out, he says, the hay was lush and fresh, with all its nutriment retained. Now he stores his entire 700-ton harvest in this way.

Formula of A Scholar For Good Grades

By David Taylor Marke
AP Education Reporter

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 — (AP) — Getting good college marks isn't difficult. Take it from Albert M. Wojnilower.

Albert proved it by achieving a near straight "A" record and coming out top man in Columbia college's class of 1951. In addition, he made Phi Beta Kappa, the Greek honorary scholastic society, and walked off with the Albert Ascher Green prize, Columbia's highest scholastic honor.

Albert, a scholarly-looking chap of 21 years, is not one of those geniuses who scoot through college without cracking a book. Neither is he a grind. He credits his good grades to his ability to read the printed page and understand what he reads.

"I'd sit down in a comfortable chair and read my class assignments without interruption," he said. "The trick is to read everything twice. No matter how difficult or simple, I'd always get more out of a second reading. Since the readings were related to the lectures in class, I didn't have to make many notes but could concentrate on what the instructor was saying.

"If you're up to date with your readings," he continued, "this shouldn't be to difficult."

"Get Know" on Essentials

Instead of cramming for examinations and trying to decipher hastily jotted down class notes, he simply re-read the material to be covered by the examination.

"If you read with comprehension," says Albert, "you soon get to know the essential points in an assignment and latch on to them permanently."

Albert took great care in preparing his examination answers. He never answered a question without first taking several minutes out to make an outline into which he put every relevant point he could think of.

"But knowing the points to be covered is only part of the job," he says. "The next step is to put your answer into good prose. Your need good writing style and clarity of expression. I always avoided the choppy answer like the plague. Also, I made sure to include one or two detailed explanations to show the instructor I actually had read the course material."

"Take time out to rest during the examination—say about five or ten minutes. Don't leave early. Take it easy. And, oh, yes, if you are taking a true or false examination, don't second-guess yourself. You either know the answer right off or you don't.

"Don't ever miss a deadline," he says. "While most instructors are pretty lenient about granting extensions of time, failure to get a theme in when due is habit forming."

While a student at Columbia, he majored in economics and statistics.

Statistics show more crimes, suicides and insanity occur in summer than at any other time of the year.

India's Rail Traffic

NEW DELHI—(AP)—During the second quarter of 1951, 311,000,000 pasesngers traveled by railroad in India, paying fares for a total revenue of $63,000,000, Railway Minister K. Santhanam announced in Indian parliament.

About half the world's cables are British-operated.

Now runs on Electricity

THE ONLY ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR WITH TEN-YEAR WARRANTY

JUST A SIMPLE ELECTRIC HEATING ELEMENT MAKES IT FREEZE

THIS AMAZING REFRIGERATOR IS OPERATED BY A UNIT AS SIMPLE AS AN ELECTRIC BULB

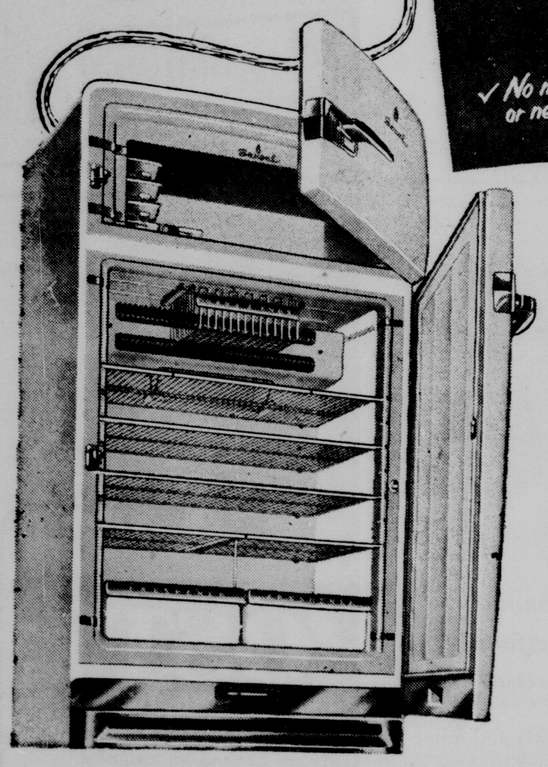
IT'S ELECTRIC — It's as simple—and as soundless—as an ordinary light bulb. Because its operation is different, cold stays constant in Servel. It's backed by an exclusive Ten-Year Warranty

Product of Servel's 25-year research, this compact electric heating element is the secret of the new silent Electric Servel. Its heat runs Servel's completely sealed freezing system.

Servel's freezing system operates like your coffee percolator. A small heating element activates the freezing cycle—eliminating machinery, valves, pumps, pistons and motor.

THE ONLY DIFFERENT ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

✓ No motor to wear or need repair ✓ No machinery to grow noisy ✓ Makes other electric refrigerators out of date



Yes, this great new Servel has no motor or machinery, yet it runs on electricity! It stays silent, lasts longer because a tiny electric heating element takes the place of all moving parts. And no moving parts mean no wearing parts!

Servel is built to outlast all other electric refrigerators—and proves it with an exclusive Ten-Year Warranty on its freezing system. No other electric refrigerator can match this promise of performance. And no other electric refrigerator comes near it for silence.

But you'd choose the no-moving-parts Servel for convenience alone. There's a big Freezer Compartment . . . magical Quick-Change Shelves . . . sliding Vegetable Fresheners . . . even a handy "Odds and Ends" Basket. Come see this revolutionary new electric refrigerator—the Servel Electric—today.

Mrs. Ina M. Reed, 605 North Quincy, is the daughter of the deceased. She received word of his death last Sunday.

Mrs. Lucille F. Brown

Mrs. Lucille F. Brown died at the home of her mother, Mrs. Julia Buckner, 518 North Moniteau at 12:45 a. m. Saturday, following a lingering illness.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Hester Johnson of the home, three sisters, Mrs. Addison Williams, Mrs. Stone Bishop and Mrs. Anna Lallis all of Sedalia, two brothers, Henry Frazier of Chesterfield and Joseph Brown of St. Joseph and several nieces and nephews.

The body is at the Ferguson funeral home.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

5 Airmen Hurt In B-29 Crash At Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 29—(AP)—A B-29 Superfortress undershot a runway, crashed and burned today while attempting an emergency landing at Carswell Air Force Base.

There were no fatalities, but all aboard were injured.

All five members of the ferry crew aboard the giant plane were civilians from the Lockheed aircraft serving base at Warner-Robins, Ga.

The pilot of the crippled ship radioed Carswell for an emergency landing permission 30 minutes from the base. He reported an excessive fuel leak.

Governors Gather For Annual Parley; Election Big Issue

GATLINBURG, Tenn., Sept. 29—(AP)—The nation's governors began gathering in this little mountain resort town today for a meeting which may produce some echoes in next year's presidential campaign.

Officially, the state chief executives are coming here for the opening tomorrow of the 43rd annual Governors' Conference during which they exchange ideas and seek agreements on some of their mutual problems.

The big questions in the pre-conference gatherings were:

(1) Will President Truman campaign for re-election?

(2) How strong is the "draft" Eisenhower" movement and how much support can the general expect from party regulars if he should run for the Republican nomination?

(3) What will the southern states do if Mr. Truman is the Democratic candidate and again pushes the civil rights program which caused part of the south to bolt in the 1948 election?

Maryland Pays Its Last Debt Of Civil War

FREDERICK, MD., Sept. 29—(AP)—The Civil War ended today for historic old Frederick. The city paid off the last of the $200,000 ransom demanded by an invading Confederate Army to save the town from the torch.

The final $20,000 note was paid to the towns five banks with little ceremony or fuss. The city fathers, howevevr, did nod respectfully to the past by reversing the pattern set on that hectic July 9, 1864.

Then the five banks hurriedly gathered up the ransom money in cold, hard cash and carried it in baskets from their vaults to the City Hall, where it was turned over by the city to the Confederates.

Today the mayor and aldermen strode the same streets back to the bank with the final payment in just such a basket.

With the payment completed, Mayor Donald R. Rice pledged to try for a 4th time to get the federal government to assume financial responsibility for the wartime holdup. Three previous attempts through the years have failed.

During the 87 years of haggling, the interest piled up to an estimated $600,000—three times the amount of the principal.

Nowhere in history can you find a better example of soldiers and citizenry rising to a point of honor.

The townspeople provided the full $200,000 themselves—nearly 1/10th of the recorded monetary value of the town—to pay the ransom, although federal troops had abandoned within the city five storehouses of critical supplies that would have more than paid the assessment.

And although General Jubal Early discovered the vast quantities of federal store within the town after the ransom was paid, he would not let his Confederate troops touch them because he had given his word tha the town would not be bothered after the money was paid.

Kem, Dirksen Assail Truman Administration

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 29—(AP)—Two Republicans — Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and James P. Kem of Missouri—tonight described the Truman administration as a corrupt and spendthrift crew hacking away at the foundations of free government.

They addressed about 2,100 persons at the Municipal Auditorium in the climax of a day-long Republican rally.

The Illinois senator said the American free enterprise system is in jeopardy both from within and from without.

"And it is ironic," Dirksen said "that this nation has given strength and vitality to the forces from without."

With a steadily growing bureaucracy in Washington, this nation "is getting on the same road that took Great Britain to Socialism," he added.

Senator Kem said the best Republican issue for the 1952 campaign is the Truman administration itself. He called for a "relentless exposure of the incompetence, immorality and confusion" in the administration.

Attend Meet At Blood Center

Representatives from 18 counties in the midwestern area of the American Red Cross assembled at the defense blood center in Kansas City on Thursday of this week. Our chapter was represented by Mrs. A. A. Studebaker, chairman of the Pettis county blood program; W. E. Hurlbut, Jr., recruitment chairman; Mrs. P. L. Strole, chairman of the residential division; Mrs. H. L. McFarland and Mrs. H. J. Staubli, canteen service; Mrs. George Holbrook, staff aide. The volunteers were taken to the meeting by Mrs. C. W. Mathieson, member of motor service.

An executive committee was elected with the Rev. H. J. Simons of Johnson county, Mo., as chairman, Mrs. H. B. Chubb, Douglas county, Kas., vice chairman, and Mrs. A. A. Studebaker, secretary. This committee will meet in the near future to plan the meetings and the agenda for the group.

William and Mary Feels Full Sting Of Sooner Depth

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 29—(AP)—Oklahoma grabbed three easy touchdowns in the first quarter and rode home on reserve power today for a decisive 49-7 victory over the William and Mary football team.

So completely did Oklahoma swamp the bigger visitors that Coach Bud Wilkinson began using his second and third teams in the second quarter.

The victory underlined Oklahoma's selection in the Associated Press pre-season poll as one of the four top teams in the nation.

The power and finesse of Oklahoma, evident down through the scrubbs, gave encouragement to the 38,000 spectators the nation's No. 1 team in 1950 was starting on another victory string.

Visit To Ozarks In Arkansas

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Demand, 1000 South Barrett, Mrs. Ford Snyder and Mrs. Ida Jolly of 604 South Kentucky, were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. . H. Butterworth of Chilhowee, on a trip to Mena, Ark., when they visited Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Butterworth.

While in Mena they visited Pine Ridge, made famous by the radio team of Lum and Abner. They met "Uncle Dick" and bought souvenirs in the Pine Ridge store. They made a trip to the top of Rich mountain the highest point in the Ouachita mountains and also the highest point between the Rockies and the Alleghanies. At the top are the ruins of a magnificent old inn that was built years ago by Holland Dutch, before there were any roads on the mountains.

En route they stopped at Boston Mt., a scenic point in the Ozarks near Fayetteville.

Mrs. Demand, Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Jolly are sisters of Mr. Butterworth who is in the real estate and insurance business in Mena.

Police Check 2 Wrecks Friday; Damage Slight

Two minor accidents were investigated by the local police Friday.

The first occured at Second and Osage at 4:42 p.m. when a car driven by Robert Osborne, 306 East Howard, collided with a truck driven by Herbert Kish, Lincoln, Mo.

Slight damage resulted to the car, and none to the truck. A settlement was reached at the scene.

The second accident occured at 11th and Missouri at 5:21 p.m., when a car driven by Cecil Grandfield, 1714½ South Prospect, collided with one driven by Mrs Martin Goss, Sedalia.

Some damage resulted to the left-rear fender of both cars. A settlement was reached by the parties involved.

Rotary Sponsors Biblical Drama

The world famous Biblical drama, 700 years old, will be presented on the stage of the Liberty theater, sponsored by the Rotary club November 12 through 14.

Each summer in the Black Hills of Spearfish, S. D., this oldest of all stories unfolds to audiences from all over the world and throughout the nation by winter tours.

Josef Meier plays the part of the Christus and brought the Passion Play to this country from Germany 19 years ago.

Mrs. Meier plays the role of Mary, the mother of Christ. She joined Mr. Meier in 1936.

The two and one half hour production has a cast of 40 principals and 100 extras.

There will be both matinee and night performances daily.

Headquarters for the numerous organizations and committee meetings have been established at 608 South Ohio. A telephone has been installed and Rotary Anns as well as others are assisting the Rotary club members to make the production a success. This stage production of the Black Hills Passion Play is by far the most outstanding spiritual event that any civic organization has endeavored to sponsor and give to the people of this city and surrounding communities.

Rotarian Rev. Glenn Lindley has been appointed general chairman by the president, F. Emory Bowman and has set in motion committee chairmen who will aid him.

Story Given On Funeral Home

A story of the Gillespie funeral home started 31 years ago by the late Ernest Gillespie and now newly modernized by D. W. Heckart the present owner appeared in the September issue of the Morticians of the Southwest published in Dallas, Tex.

With the story is a picture of the funeral home and four views of the interior.

The story tells of the extensive remodeling and redecorating of the funeral home started in April of 1950 and completed in August which ended with a Community Inspection Week. The architect, William Wallace, a relative of Gillespie's was employed to remove the partitions and decorators from Kansas City completed the interior decorating. Then the air conditioning has been added as well as a new hearse and blue ambulance.

Continuing, the story tells of how Gillespie and his wife, Margaret, started out with a small amount of capital but a large amount of determination, ability and personality, and improved the funeral home each year until it rated very high in the state.

The funeral home was then purchased by D. W. Heckart who was from Topeka, Kas., and Mr. Heckart and his wife have made it completely modern with the latest addition being the installation of a Wurlitzer organ.

Dispute To Idle 1,600 Employes Of Beer Company

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29—(AP)—Some 1600 workers will be idled Monday by a shutdown of the Anheuser-Busch bottling department as result of what the brewery charges is a "deliberate slowdown" on the part of employes.

August A. Busch, Jr., president, said the slowdown started Wednesday after a company dispute with the CIO bottlers' union. All beer bottling and canning operations will cease with the closing, he added.

Changing conditions, he said, made it necessary for the company to lay-off some workers who inspect empty bottles. The concern wanted to eliminate jobs among employes in the basement but the union insisted the layoffs be made on the fourth floor.

Busch said it will be the first time in the history of the company, one of the world's largest breweries, that it has been compelled to shut down any of its operations as a result of labor troubles.

Officials of the union could not be reached for comment.

In the last seven work shifts, Busch said, only 373,800 cases of beer were produced—compared with a normal output of 576,000.

Victoria Sherry Lyric Soprano, Will Be Guest

Scott Weber, program chairman of the Sedalia Symphony society, announced Saturday that the guest artist for the opening concert of the seventh season would be Victoria Sherry, lyric soprano.

Miss Sherry played the feminine lead in "Desert Song" at the Starlight Theatre last summer in Kansas City. She had had several successful seasons playing principal roles in outdoor theatres in Memphis and Louisville.

Accompanying Miss Sherry will be her husband, Roland Fiore, who was the conductor for the Starlight Theatre orchestra last season.

Richard H. Berger, production director of the Starlight Theatre, will accompany the artist to Sedalia and attend the concert.

Sedalians Assist Bethel Initiation

Mrs. Jerry Brown, Mrs. Merle Vaughn, Mrs. Charles McNealy, Mrs. Ruby Dunn and Misses Nancy Vaughn, Donna Lynn Richardson and Kay Brown drove to Barry Wednesday to assist in institution, initiation, and installation of the Guardian Council Bethel officers and members of New Bethel. Nancy Vaughn acted as initiation guide, Kay Brown as installing Grand Guide and Mrs. Jerry Brown as Installing Grand Marshall.

Noble Grands To Meet

The Past Noble Grand club of the Rebekahs will meet Friday October 5 at the home of Mrs. Mary Gibbs, 1507 South Moniteau.

A covered dish dinner will be served.

Rotary Speaker

Lieut. K. K. Johnson, personnel and training officer of the Missouri State Highway Patrol will address Rotarians at their noon meeting Monday. He will tell of his trip to the International Boy Scout Jamboree held last month near Bad Ischl, Austria. Lieut. Johnson accompanied 39 midwesterner youths as part of a contingent of 630 American Boy Scouts. The jamboree attracted 12,000 scouts from fifty-five countries. Rotary will have as special guests for the luncheon and address, officials and executives of the Lake of the Ozarks Council as well as Pettis district Scout leaders.

Enrollment At Central 577

Total enrollment at Central college, Fayette, for the fall semester stands at 577 students according to announcement by Dr. Ralph L. Woodward, president of the college. This represents a decrease of only about 11 per cent from the number in school second semester last year.

Despite the fact there was a general decrease in enrollment in the college as a whole, enrollment in the Swinney Conservatory of music and the Department of Chemistry did not show a decrease but a slight increase over last year. Enrollment held up better than anticipated according to Dr. Woodward as Central did not experience the decrease in enrollment last year that so many colleges did.

The high rating that Central has always had in Music, along with the very high rating in Chemistry and Science as evidenced by reports in Scientific American, Science, and Journal of Higher Education accounted for no drop in these departments. Introduction of work in elementary education this year helped keep enrollment up according to Dr. Woodward.

GOP Leaders Meet To Map Strategy For '52 Campaign

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—(AP)—The vanguard of some 300 Republican leaders from 21 eastern and southern states began arriving today for a 1952 campaign strategy session Monday.

Intra-party presidential politics and the demands from some GOP members that National Chairman Guy Gabrielson resign because of his negotiations with the RFC over a business loan will be in the background; party chiefs said today they doubted either would come out in the open.

The one-day session has been called primarily a "workshop" where national committeemen, state chairmen, women and young Republicans can swap talk about how to beat the Democrats in 1952 and do some preliminary planning for the party's national convention at Chicago starting July 7.

Social Security

As a result of some of the information given last week by Scott Webber, manager of the Sedalia office of Social Security, several questions have been asked. Mr. Webber gives answers to these questions below:

Q.—Your article said "all self-employed people will need a Social Security number." I have been in business for myself since Social Security started, and pay Social Security on my employees. I have an employer's number. Will that number be the one I use to report my own Social Security?

A.—You will not use your employer number to report your own earnings. If you have never had a regular employee social security account number, you should apply for one at once, so that you will have it when you file your income tax return at the year's end.

Persons who have had social security numbers but have lost them, should apply for a duplicate of their original number. The same form is used for either originals or duplicates, and may be obtained from the Social Security office or any post office.

Q.—The Social Security law does not cover farm operators or certain professional people—doctors, lawyers, etc. I am a lawyer, operating my own practice. I also have income from a small manufacturing concern, in which I am a partner. Does my profession as a lawyer prevent any part of my income from being covered by Social Security?

A.—If a professional man engages in an excluded profession, and in addition, engages in activities which constitute a separate business, only the income received from his profession is barred from Social Security coverage; the income received from his other activities in separate trades or businesses would be reported for Social Security purposes. The same rule governs professional persons engaged in partnerships.

It is not uncommon for professional people to engage in sidelines, in addition to practicing their regular professions. Some sidelines may grow out of the profession, and be closely related to it. For example, a lawyer may engage in the sale of real estate. Or a doctor may derive income from conducting a newspaper column on health hints. Other sidelines may be completely unrelated to the individual's profession.

Many professional men operate or have interests in commercial enterprises such as stores, factories, etc.

In cases involving multiple activities, the decision on whether any part of the professional individual's income will be used in computing his net earnings from Selt-Employment will depend on whether or not the activity is so closely related to his excluded profession as to be in effect a part of it.

Sorosis Speaker Is Japanese Exchange Student

Tayomasa Fuse, Rotary exchange student from Missouri Valley college, Marshall, will be the speaker at Sorosis Monday afternoon.

Mr. Fuse is from Sapparo City, Hokkaido Island, Japan. He was graduated from the Sapparo City high school in 1950, served as secretary of the Presbyterian Mission from the United States for five months, and spent three years in "police state" during the war. He is a son of an attorney and expects to study inter-national law and eventually hopes to serve in the "World Court of Justice" in Switzerland.

"Japanese Reaction to American Occupation" will be the subject on which Mr. Fuse will speak and he will make comments on the recently concluded treaty and MacArthur's release.

Richard D. Yennie, the speaker at Sorosis last week, an American who also spoke on Japan where he was an interperter for three years, said that he knew Mr. Fuse personally and spoke very highly of him. He stated that the Fuse family, who are Christians, had been persecuted by the Japanese during the war.

Mrs. Otis W. Wiley, chairman of the History and Literature committee, will introduce the speaker.

If you would like to change the looks of your wall above the fireplace; have you thought of using a shadow box made out of an old picture frame with a mirror for the back of the box. Of course, those heavy ornate gold leaf frames make a formal shadow box and a traditionl setting for Royal Doulton figurines.

A modern type shadow box to compliment the blond straight line furniture now used extensively; can be made in simple box lines and if the mirror for the back of the box is not available; use a modern exotic wallpaper for the background to set off ceramic figures.

Your Wardrobe
By Frances Sagaloff at Sage's

SHOES FOR FALL ARE PRETTIER than ever. Regardless of the price shoes you buy, you will be able to find purses to match and this alone adds much to your outfit. Many of the suedes have a bit of leather trim. Having a good shoe wardrobe is very necessary for the well-groomed woman. When you're wearing a smart suit, wear proper shoes with it — not a pair of play shoes or dancing shoes. You'll be seeing a lot of brown and dark green calf shoes and if this particular material is your choice, keep them well polished. If you can afford but one pair of shoes for dress, get plain sling pumps for regular wear and then a smart pair of buckles for real dress-up. Being well shod and properly so for all occasions has to be planned for and accumulated. The styles are varied and all the fall colors are available so there is no need not to find the right shoes for your needs.

Patterson-Rice Wedding

Miss Rowena Patterson and Mr. Lester F. Rice, both formerly of Sedalia and now of Longview, Wash., were married September 8 at the home of the officiating minister, the Rev. E. R. Jacks, at Longview. The double ring ceremony was used.

The bride's maroon gabardine suit was accented by a corsage of white gladioli. Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McKinstry and as matron of honor Mrs. McKinstry wore a gray gabardine suit complemented by a corsage of yellow gladioli.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony and was at the future home of the couple.

The bride, a graduate of Smith-Cotton high school, Stephens college, Columbia, and the University of Missouri, was for several years a teacher at Jefferson school in Sedalia. About three years ago she went to Washington, where she has been teaching at Washington school in Kelso, making her home in Longview.

Mr. Rice, who also attended Smith-Cotton high school here, is employed by the Standard Paper Box Corp. ,in Longview, where he has resided since June. It was then he left Sedalia after having been employed for a number of years in the M.K.T. and Missouri Pacific shops.

Married In Chicago

Miss Betty Jean Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Smith of Chicago, formerly of Smithton, and Mr. Carl DeLaurentis, son of Mrs. Madelina DeLaurentis of Chicago, were married June 2 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at Lakeview Methodist church in Chicago. Dr. Ralph Hall Collis read the double ring service.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white lace and her veil of nylon illusion fell from a juliet cap of lace and seed pearls. Her only ornament was a pin which had belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Maria Bridges, and she carried a crescent bouquet of white orchids, sweetpeas and ivy.

Mrs. Jacqueline George, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Marilyn Smith was bridesmaid.

Mr. Fred George was best man and ushers were Mr. Frank Calabrese and Mr. Vincent Esposito.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bridges, Marva and Tommy of Otterville, and Mrs. R. G. Smith of Smithton.

Prayer was by Mrs. Faud Burlingame.

Safety Agents To Visit Airport

One or more aviation safety agents representing the Civil Aeronautics administration from Kansas City, Kas., will visit the Sedalia municipal airport on October 10.

The purpose of the visit is to serve the needs of persons in the communities who are interested in civil aviation. In addition to administering written, flight and practical examinatons to applicants who have been working toward airman cerificates of various types, they will, upon request, conduct inspections of aircraft, airports and ground and flying school facilities.

They are available for discussion of any and all aviation problems, and will be glad, during their stay, to consult with groups or individuals interested.

Normally if no business is presented by 11 o'clock they will leave for other points in the territory where work is waiting. However, arrangements can be made for discussions, inspections or for any matter pertaining to aviation by calling before that time as these agents are vitally interested in the development of civil aviation, and are in a position to offer information on this subject.

"Where Customers Send Their Friends"

An open, friendly letter to Mayor Herb Studer and the city council members before opening of National Fire Prevention Week, October 7-13. Paid for by The West Side Variety, 718 West 16th Street.

WHO BLAMES WHO?

The future prosperity of Kansas City, Mo. and Kansas City Kas. is threatened by the recent flood of the Missouri River! That flood may cause many industries to move away from this low area. No city wants to loose industries that employ hundreds and even thousands of men and women. (It might have been prevented by long range planning!)

WHO WILL BLAME WHO IF . . .

our two city fire departments are trying to cope with a stubborn fire downtown, and a big fire breaks out in our residential district or the Missouri Pacific Shops or the State Fair Grounds?

Let's be frank folks, Sedalia is based on the Missouri Pacific Shops, the Missouri State Fair, Pittsburgh-Corning Corp., etc, etc. Let's face the facts and . . . if we can't display enough interest in these many fine institutions to give sufficient fire protection . . . well, do we deserve to have them?

These are inflationary times! When we look back over the years, we realize how "foolish" and short-sighted we Sedalians were . . . and perhaps are yet! Remember, when we had the opportunity to buy the "best" building in Sedalia for $15,000.00, (down payment $1,000, balance $100.00 monthly). Today that same building is worth from $50,000 to $100,000!

We just simply didn't believe in Sedalia then. We couldn't see any future. It cost us dearly . . . if making money the investment way means anything.

Do we believe in Sedalia now, gentlemen? A FIRE DEPARTMENT for South and Southwest Sedalia will enhance the property value of thousands of homes and scores of business institutions. People like to trade with a lively store . . . a store where other people are coming and going and where the cash register is ringing. Gentlemen, people like the same kind of lively atmosphere when they locate an industry, business or build a home, (all of which means new TAXES). Let's show them that our city officials above all else really believe in Sedalia and Sedalia's future!

South and Southwest Sedalia need a fire department (not an expensive, showy department), but a speedy fire-fighting unit, with a siren, 3 or 4 firemen, some hose, and an ordinary red truck. It will mean honest, one-minute protection for our citizens' lives, their property, and it will create a "civic pride fire" that no amount of Flat Creek water can extinguish!

Gentlemen, during these inflationary times it is almost impossible to carry enough fire insurance to permit replacement of property totally destroyed. We can't possibly build back for what it cost us 5 or 10 years ago! Our best and most economical bet is adequate fire insurance (as much as we can carry financially) and then rely on our city firemens' ability to cope with one of mankind's best friends and deadliest enemies . . . FIRE!

Two fire departments are insufficient for a growing city like Sedalia! Again, what would happen if a stubborn fire broke out downtown, and while our firemen were fighting it . . . another fire started in another section of our city?
City officials say: "We don't have the money for this really fine improvement for Sedalia"!

We feel that Sedalia now has some very capable men managing its affairs . . . Mayor Herb Studer and aldermen from the four wards. Gentlemen, let's get the money and start building a third, common-place fire department NOW! We might as well pay a few cents more city taxes annually as to pay several more dollars to the insurance companies; if our treasury is depleted. Fire insurance won't buy a life back! It won't restore items that Grandfather or Grandmother bequeathed us.

But one-minute fire protection can prevent many of these losses that fire insurance checks can't buy back! Not only South and Southwest Sedalians will benefit from this timely and needed improvement, but every man, woman and child in the city will gain by this added fire protection.

Now gentlemen, we would appreciate your honest answer. Fire Prevention Week is October 7 to 13 . . . Let's help curtail fire by adequate fire fighting equipment, and not be satisfied with a lot of "charming Fire Prevention Week speeches."

Sincerely

WEST SIDE VARIETY

Hubbard Swim Season And Recreation Program Success

Miss Marion Black, center, who won the bathing beauty contest at Hubbard Park. Miss Coleta Byrd second and Miss Barbara Peyton, third.

The Hubbard swimming pool and recreational program has completed one of the most successful summers of its existence with approximately 3,000 enjoying the pool during the summer. It closed with a bathing beauty contest which was won by Miss Marion Black; second, Miss Coleta Byrd; and third, Miss Barbara Peyton. The contestants were awarded beautiful gifts. This event was enjoyed by a very appreciative group.

During the summer the public enjoyed three diving and swimming exhibitions here—one with Jefferson City, two with Marshall—with the Sedalia boys not winning all the prizes. However, they did get their share.

On August 28 the recreational program sponsored a swimming team to Jefferson City. Again our contestants sharing at least half of the prizes. This trip was very much enjoyed by the participants and they are desirous of another such event.

There were Red Cross swimming classes twice weekly for non-swimmers. This was sponsored by the Red Cross in Pettis county. Two beginners' classes were taught with 12 members each. Out of that number 18 will receive Red Cross beginners' cards issued by R. E. Lee, the water safety instructor in Sedalia.

The Marshall recreational program provided a bus to bring children twice weekly to use the Hubbard pool this summer. During that time C. R. Stephens, water safety instructor of Marshall, held a beginners' swimming class with 11 completing the course.

The Hubbard pool staff was host to visitors from Warrensburg, Columbia, Windsor, Knob Noster and other surrounding communities on several occasions during the summer. Each expressed admiration for our beautiful park and recreational facilities offered to them for their enjoyment while here.

In order that Hubbard Park receive more equipment, it is urged that the public frequent the park more often and express their appreciation by using this equipment.

The manager, R. E. Lee, takes this opportunity to express his appreciation to members of the personnel staff for their fine cooperation which helped to make this season a success, and to those Sedalians who attended or sent their children to enjoy our beautiful pool.

The park board is grateful to the community for the beautiful Hubbard Park swimming pool.

Thanks to Mr. Lee for the capable job he did in operating the pool. With a few more seasons under Mr. Lee's administration, this will be the community focal point for the colored folks.

Mr. Lee, the park board wants you to know that they think you did a very fine job.

Jim Egbert Is Made Marine 2nd Lieutenant

Jimmy Edward Egbert, 22, son of Mrs. J. F. Kubli, 1400 East Broadway, Sedalia, recently won the gold bars of a Marine second lieutenant following his graduation from the officer candidate course at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

Lieutenant Egbert will now be transferred to Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., where he will receive advanced training prior to taking his place in the ranks of Marine Corps officers serving on land, sea and in the air.

'Indian Music' On Club Program

The September meeting of the Mutual Improvement club was held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Close, southeast of Green Ridge.

The president, Mrs. Glen Morrow, presided at the business meeting. The report of the nominating committee for officers for next year was accepted. Mrs. Russell Miller, chairman of the fine arts department, assisted by Mrs. Floyd Egbert, presented an interesting program of Indian music.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs Wilford Acker of Sedalia, served refreshments to 12 members and the following guests: Miss Barbara Aeschbacher of Otterville, Mrs. Raymond Wasson and daughter, Cheryl, of La Monte, Mrs. Wilfred Purchase and Mrs. J. L. Purchase, Jr.

U. S. Army records show 68 per cent of officers have completed one or more years of college.

Tibet's largest monastery has more than 3,000 monks.

Eight From Sedalia In Upper Classes At Central College

Eight Sedalians are upperclass students at Central college, Fayette this year and two are student assistants to heads of various departments.

Hector Oman McDonald and Robert V. Wright are seniors; Ella Dee Runge and Dennis Richard Semkin, juniors; Dorothy Jane Anderson, Alberta Lillian Runge, Robert Means Van Horn and Norman August Witthaus, sophomores.

Dennis Semkin is student assistant to Dr. Walter Brown in the department of biology and Hector McDonald is student assistant to Dr. E. C. Buckner of the department of chemistry.

Messages of Governors Now In Book Form

Every word that Missouri's former state governors have said officially is now published in book form.

"The latest in the monumental 16 volume series of "The Messages and Proclamations of the Governors of the State of Missouri," compiled by the State Historical Society of Missouri, is just off the press.

Official words of Missouri governors now fill more than 8000 pages, and the society has spent nearly 30 years gathering them from scattered sources. Beginning with the inaugural message of Alexander McNair, the first governor, Sept. 20, 1821, the volumes include inaugural, biennial, special and veto messages as well as proclamations by all of McNair's successors through Phil M. Donnelly the last governor to complete his term of office.

Here 41 governors, dating from 1820 to January 5, 1949, reflect the problems of the times in which they lived. The "Messages" show Gov. Lilburn W. Boggs having trouble with the Mormons and the Iowa boundary line in 1838-39, while in 1861 pro-southern Gov. Clairborne Fox Jackson was calling for state volunteers to repel the "invading" Union forces. Gov. Arthur M. Hyde urged the Centennial Road Law in 1921, and Gov. Guy B. Park faced problems of providing relief during the 1933 depression.

Judges and lawyers, teachers, and students of government find material in the "Messages" which is not available in any other one place. The State Historical Society plans to continue publishing the "Messages" as each governor completes his official term.

Rev. Carl Scott Accepts Pastorate Of Two Churches

The Rev. Carl Scott has accepted a call to the pastorate of Flat Creek and Camp Branch Baptist churches.

A student at Central Baptist Seminary, Kansas City, Kas., Rev. Scott is a graduate of Hendrix college, Conway, Ark., and of Baylor university, Waco, Tex. While at Baylor he was president of the Baylor Ministerial Alliance, largest group of ministerial students in the world.

In Texas he served as pastor of the First Baptist church, Oglesby, and for the past two years has been missionary for the Faulkner county Baptist association, Conway, Ark.

He is married and has two children. Mrs. Scott, also a student at Central Seminary, is president of the Women's Missionary Society there.

Tigers Wallop Saints, 40-18

Small Saints Score 3 TDs In 4th Period

Statistics of the Smith-Cotton-St. Peters football game:

	Sedalia	St. P.
First Downs	10	8
Rushing yardage	389	150
Passing yardage	83	85
Passes attempted	9	17
Passes Completed	4	5
Passes intercepted	2	2
Punts	4	4
Punting Average	30	25
Fumbles lost	0	6
Yards penalized	45	25

Capitalizing on six recovered fumbles and a spotty passing attack by the St. Peters Saints of Jefferson City, the Smith-Cotton Tigers racked-up their third straight 1951 gridiron victory Friday night at Liberty park by a 40-18 count. A chilly crowd of about 1500 witnessed the contest.

After the opening minutes of the contest the final outcome was never in doubt as the willing, but smaller, Saints were unable to cope with the local's power and size.

Line Play Sparkles

The line play of Jim Dent, Ralph Schultz, Don Allcorn, Wilbur Bain, Stan Walch, Herb Ford, Jim Phelps, Gene Rathburn, and Jack Shelledy was outstanding for the Bengals.

Bill Arnold—Floyd Burton

Quarterback Billy Arnold and halfback Floyd Burton, with good blocking, were outstanding in the Sedalia attack. The "Tiger Twins" started their scoring spree early and continued until Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow rested them in favor of the second and third stringers.

Saints Score Late

St. Peters couldn't get their scoring attack underway until the final stanza. They then countered three quick TDs against the S-C reserves.

The Saints took the opening kick-off and punted, after three running attempts failed. From their own 46-yard marker, it took the Sedalians nine plays to make their initial tally. Floyd Burton concluded the drive, cutting between guard and tackle for the score. His kick for point was blocked.

Herb Ford kicked to St. Peters and on the second play Quarterback Jimmy Rackers took to the air, only to have Bill Arnold intercept and ramble 50 yards down the south sideline for the second counter. Floyd Burton's kick for point was good, and Smith-Cotton led, 13-0.

Ford Romps For TD

Early in the second period Rackers opened fire from his own 20 and Smith-Cotton again intercepted. Rackers, aiming for Harry Jansen on a flat pass, threw directly into the arms of Herb Ford, and the big Tiger end sped 25 yards along the north sideline for the third counter. Burton kicked the extra point.

Smith-Cotton's fourth toucher of the first half was made possible by a freak play. End Jack Shelledy "stole" the ball from a Saint back on the opponent's 47. Bill Arnold carried 44 yards in two attempts, and Burton got credit for the marker with a three-yard plunge. His attempted conversion kick was wide, and the Tigers left the field with a 26-0 half-time lead.

On the first play from scrimmage in the second half, Floyd Burton turned in a beautiful broken-field run with fine interference, which was good for 47 yards and a touchdown. He made good his try for extra point.

Arnold Scats 42 Yards

In the waning minutes of the third period, Bill Arnold turned in another crowd-pleasing run. Picking up good blocking after cutting through end and tackle, he reversed field and evaded the entire St. Pete secondary for the score. Floyd Burton placed the extra point attempt through the uprights and the Tiger varsity left the field the remainder of the night, holding a 40-0 lead.

With the lighter and inexperienced S-C reserves in the line-up, the Saints countered three quick TDs in the final period. Halfback Bill Tellman got the first two and end Harry Jandsen the third on an aerial from Rackers.

Tellman Tallies 2 for Saints

Tellman broke off guard for a 14-yard jaunt on his first and then plunged from two out for the second. Jansen's pass from Rackers covered 20 yards. Tellman's first two attempts for extra point were blocked and the final, a running play, was stopped short of the twin stripe.

Coach Dow played each of his 46 players. The younger players couldn't stop the Saints, but made a few good offensive gains and several fine tackles.

St. Peters went to the air 17 times and connected five, good for 93 yards. Their running attack found holes in the Tigers' line, gaining a total of 150 yards rushing, but never dominating play.

Tough St. Pete Break

Tellman made the top run of the game in the third quarter. He took a S-C kick-off on his own 11-yard marker and returned the kick to the Tiger one-foot line—a run that netted 88 yards, but took more distance. From that point, it appeared certain the Saints would score, but on the first down, only one foot from pay dirt, they fumbled and the Tigers recovered.

Floyd Burton made a 30-yard TD run for S-C, but a clipping penalty nullified his effort.

Smith-Cotton is idle next week, but plays a conference game here Oct. 12 against the Hannibal Pirates.

Lands Large Fish

R. W. "Bob" Williams, 1209 South Grand, (right) with his uncle A. M. Williams, Bartlesville, Okla., holding a 23½ pounds northern pike, largest caught this season at Bemidji, Minnesota. The fish meaured 41 inches in length. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams, 1714 West 16th, parents of Bob, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Williams and son Joly, returned the past week from the two weeks visiting trip to Minnesota. They were met there by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Williams. They fished in Lake Beltrami at the Wild Rose Resort, operated by Jim and Elaine Rainville. The big fish was shipped to Fulton to the School for the Deaf for a fish fry.

H. L. Williams New Semi-Pro Commissioner

Tournament To Be Held in Sedalia The Last of July

WICHITA, Kas., Sept. 29—(Special)—The National Baseball Congress today announced that the 17th annual Missouri state championship baseball tournament for non-professional clubs will be staged definitely at Sedalia, starting July 21.

H. L. Williams of Sedalia was named 1952 Missouri state commissioner to supervise the statewide program.

Hold District Tournaments

A series of 12 district tournaments is scheduled throughout Missouri with champions assured berths in the state meet along with leaders of July 1 standing in affiliated leagues.

Mendon Athletics are the defending Missouri state champions.

The Missouri state champions will meet the No. 1 Arkansas non-professional titlists in a bi-state playoff series with the winner being eligible to represent this zone in the 18th annual national tournament at Wichita, starting August 15.

H. L. "Hank" Williams, 1204 South Ohio, the new Missouri State semi-pro baseball commissioner, is well known in Sedalia. His appointment comes as a surprise to many, while others who have been deeply interested in getting the tournament back in Sedalia, were rewarded with their endeavors to convince President Ray Dumont of the National Baseball Congress that Mr. Williams was the man needed for the job in Missouri.

Former Baseball Star

Commissioner Williams is a former baseball player. He played ball with Kiowa, Kas., Merchants, before coming to Sedalia in 1924. After coming to Sedalia he went to work at the Missouri Pacific shops as a machinist and played with the old Missouri Pacific Booster club for several years.

He also played baseball with the old Sedalia Athletics and the Sedalia Merchants baseball teams for several years. Williams not only is a former baseball star, he played basketball with the Dynamos of the Missouri Pacific shops.

For two years he managed and played with the Missouri Pacific softball team, the Eagles.

Three years Williams acted as assistant state commissioner under C. C. Rowe, in 1947 and '48, under Gene Kurash in 1950.

Shattered Army Team Gets 21-7 Beating From Villanova

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 29—(AP)—Villanova, belted around regularly by Army football teams ever since 1908, took its revenge today on the Cadet's shattered forces, grinding out a 21 to 7 victory as Ben Addiego, a fireplug halfback from West Mont, N. J., went across for three touchdowns.

Lions Sponsor Annual Pet Show Oct. 7th

All Children in the County are Invited To Enter Their Pets

The Sedalia Lions club fourth annual Pet Show will be held at the Liberty Park band shell at 1:30 p. m. Sunday, October 7. Plans of the Lions committee in charge are to make this one of the largest and best pet shows the club has sponsored.

Registration Not Necessary

Entries are open to all children in Pettis county. There will not be an advanced registration necessary. All that is necessary is for the boy or girl to go to the park in company with his or her favorite pet and they will be assigned to a certain group of contestants for which the pet is eligible.

The pet show project was started in 1948 and has become very popular with the children as well as the adults who gather around to watch the children handling their pets. The fact that no invitations are sent to any certain individuals and it is open competition to all children has made it that much more popular.

Twenty Classes

According to the committee in charge there will be twenty (20) different classes and cash prizes to be awarded in each class. Not only will prizes be awarded but the children will also be given special favors for attending.

The committee is composed of Robert "Bob" Cain, as chairman, James McNeil, E. B. Smith, Merle Vaughn, W. B. Robertson, Fred Handley, Dr. David Robinson, Virgil Ragar, Carl Goist, Dr. O. J. Durnell and Joe Long. The group is working out an exceptionally interesting program for the annual event.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

Veeck May Name Hornsby Pilot; To Confer Today

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby, one-time pilot for the St. Louis Browns, will meet with Brownie owner Bill Veeck tomorrow.

Veeck announced today that the Rajah, who piloted Seattle to a Pacific Coast League championship this season, is scheduled to arrive by plane tomorrow morning.

After the meeting Hornsby will watch the final Browns' game of the season against the Chicago White Sox.

For several weeks reports have been going around that Hornsby would get the Browns managerial post which now is held by Zack Taylor.

Veeck said, in his announcement, there was a "possibility" that he and Hornsby would discuss the job.

Hornsby managed the club from 1933 until his dismissal four years later. He also piloted three other major league clubs, including the Cardinals, during his career.

Tennessee Captures Opening Game; Whip Mississippi Staters

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 29—(AP)—Tennessee stabbed quickly for two touchdowns in the first period and then coasted to an unimpressive 14 to 0 win over Mississippi State today in a Southeastern Conference football game.

Tennessee, rated the nation's No. 1 team in the pre-season Associated Press poll, capitalized on breaks to punch over both its scores in the first five minutes.

But after those game-winning thrusts, the Volunteers' highly touted single wing offensive sputtered and fizzled against the Maroons' stubborn defensive wall.

Northwestern Passes Lead To Colorado's First Defeat, 35-14

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 29—(AP)—A Northwestern quarterback with an arm like a hachet man chopped Colorado defenses to pieces today and ran a smooth and powerful Wildcat football team to a 35-15 victory over Colorado.

Bob Burson, whose brother Don was a quarterback star for Northwestern two years ago, threw three touchdown passes and kept Colorado off balance with overhead sharpshooting.

Colorado never was strictly out of the game, but with the exception of two long last-half scoring drives, was not able to get a tricky pass-and-run offense working in Northwestern territory.

Ole Miss Upsets Kentucky, 21-17

OXFORD, Miss., Sept. 29—(AP)—The University of Mississippi smothered the great Babe Parilli and grabbed a pair of University of Kentucky fumbles to topple the 1951 Sugar Bowl champions 21-17 today.

A crowd of more than 20,000 roared as the Mississippians bulled and passed their way to revenge for the 47-0 and 27-0 pastings the Kentuckians handed them in the past two seasons.

Kentucky, the Southeastern Conference defending champs, didn't quit until the last whistle.

In their final try, Parilli passed the Wildcats 77 yards in a series of plays that ended on the one-yard line. Mississippi's pass defense clicked as Pete Mangum hit Jim Proffitt so hard he dropped the ball. The Parilli-to-Proffitt toss was the last of four that Parilli threw in the game's final seconds.

Strong Ground Attack Gives Washington U. 21-8 Win Over Rolla

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29—(AP)—The Washington university Bears, scoring twice with a four-minute period of the third quarter, defeated the Missouri Miners of Rolla, 21 to 8 at Francis Field here today.

Halfback Jim Burst set up the Bears initial touchdown on a 70-yard punt return, enabling Norb Mueller to score his first of two TD's on a short plunge. Mueller scored again on a 40-yard touchdown pass from Jim Uteritz, sophomore son of the Bears' coach.

The Miners, who had scored a safety in the first quarter, tallied their only touchdown in the fourth quarter on a pass from Howard Bullman, son of the Miners' mentor, to halfback Gene Huffman.

A crowd of 6,000 saw the Bears score their third TD on a 79-yard run by Burst in the final period. The Bears were awarded 2 points earlier in the final period on an automatic safety.

Washington rolled up 301 yards rushing compared to 103 for Rolla.

Score by quarters:

Missouri Mines	2	0	0	6	— 8
Washington U.	0	0	13	8	—21

Irish Display Form Of Old; Smash Indiana

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 29—(AP)—A brand-new Notre Dame football juggernaut, powered by a four-touchdown scoring sophomore fullback and unveiling a surprising "I" formation, smashed bewildered Indiana, 48-6, in the season opener for both today.

A Notre Dame stadium throng of 55,790 was electrified by a five-touchdown Irish second quarter in which Neil Worden, 187-pound fullback from Milwaukee, Wis., scored four times on bull-like rushes.

The game, for all intents and purposes, was over at halftime, when Notre Dame held a 42-0 lead after preceding its second period explosion with a first quarter touchdown.

The "green kids" over which Coach Frank Leahy had mourned so abjectly were a band of furious "Fighting Irish," reminiscent of Notre Dame's post-war powerhouses.

The jubilant Irish carried Leahy off the field on their shoulders after the game.

Notre Dame displayed the novel "I" formation—a lineup of all four backs perpendicular to the line—only three times. But the first time it resulted in a 40-yard pass from quarterback Johnny Mazur to end Jim Mutscheller that set up a four-yard smash by veteran back Billy Barrett for Notre Dame's first touchdown. Menil Mavrades, soph end, converted after six of Notre Dame's seven touchdowns, the last coming in the final period on a one-yard thrust by veteran Del Gander.

Hubbard Loses, 7-0 To KC's R.T. Coles

Hubbard high school's Tigers dropped a hard-fought 7-0 decision to the R. T. Cole high school of Kansas City at Kansas City Saturday morning.

The Tigers threatened twice, but both times fumbles eliminated their scoring chances. Quarterback Floyd Payne and fullback Carl Whitney carried the brunt of the Hubbard offensive attack.

The heavier opponents crashed the Hubbard line for their winning margin in the third period.

Hubbard's passing results were only fair, completing five of 17 attempts.

Cross-eyed and near-sighted children usually are the best students, says the American Optometric Association.

NY, Brooks Tied; Finale Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 29—(AP)—The astounding New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers headed into the final games of the sizzling National League pennant race today all-square after scoring shutout victories.

The Giants whipped the Boston Braves 3-0 behind the superb pitching of Sal Maglie in the afternoon to take undisputed command for the first time this season.

Giants Lead Short Time

But they held possession by themselves for only a few hours as the Dodgers, reeling under the impact of the Giants' great surge, turned on the Philadelphia Phillies and won 5-0 behind big Don Newcombe.

They meet the same opponents in the final games of the regular season tomorrow. If they both win or loose a best of three playoff series will start in Ebbets Field Monday. The second and third, if necessary, will be played at the Giants' Polo Grounds.

Here's how the standings look going into the final day:

New York Giants	95	58	.621
Brooklyn Dodgers	95	58	.621

Newcombe came through with his 20th pitching victory as the Dodgers, knowing that a defeat would just about ruin their pennant chances, turned in sensational fielding plays with Jackie Robinson and Billy Cox the stars.

The Giants, who'll go down in the books as the 1951 Cinderella team, win or lose, have won 37 and lost 7 since Aug. 11 for a percentage of .837. When they started the drive they trailed the Dodgers by 13½ games. During that period the Dodgers have won 25 and lost 22—just a little better than .500 ball.

Public Interest High

The Giants under manager Leo Durocher have excited public interest for their amazing comeback. On April 29, with that 2-12 record, they were 7½ games behind. Their handicap was so heavy with the season scarcely started that no one would give them a chance. The Giants lost 11 in a row at the outset.

In the event of a playoff in the National League, the first game will be in Ebbetts field, Brooklyn, on Monday and the next two at the Polo Grounds in New York. That would postpone the opening of the world series until Thursday, Oct. 4, if all three are played.

If no playoff is needed or the playoff goes only two games the series opens Wednesday at Yankee Stadium.

Sport Scraps

By D. Kelly Scruton

THE Stadium Day Drive to raise $30,000 has netted $15,373.64 up to Saturday. That is barely over the half-way mark of the anticipated goal of monies to be used to construct a Recreational Area in conjunction with the Jennie Jaynes Lewis Memorial Stadium. There is a chance the stadium will not be built if the Recreational program falls "flat".

Mrs. Lewis left to Sedalia a sum more than $85,000 for a Memorial to be built. Trustees gave considerable thought as to what type of a Memorial should be constructed and from opinions obtained from many Sedalians, the stadium was the project set forth.

BUT—the original trustees wanted to be sure and said a stadium was fine, providing Sedalians would build an up-to-date recreational area in conjunction with it. The new trustees are going along with the thought of the original trustees on the recreational area and it is strictly up to Sedalia to raise the monies for such a program.

This proposal could not be voted as a bond issue, therefore a public subscription campaign had to be resorted to. Sedalians cannot say the trustees haven't gone along—they have, in fact much stronger than many Sedalians who could afford to go along just as generously. $30,000 seems like a great deal of money—it is—but it is a mere drop in the bucket compared with the $85,000 offered by the estate of Mrs. Lewis.

SEDALIA'S school children exhibited their desire for the stadium with the over-town drive they put on for funds Many Sedalians donated to the boys and girls, some were generous while there were others who took advantage of a situation.

What I mean "taking advantage of a situation" is this. Some Sedalians gave a dollar or even five dollars to a boy or girl when they could just as easily given $10 to $25 and even more in some cases. To top it all off when a solicitor called upon them expecting that larger donations would be made, they were informed "I have already given."

MONDAY is CLEAN-UP DAY and campaigners will be out making "call-backs" checking those people who they have missed during Thursday, Friday and Saturday. They will be after your donations—you people who gave a $1.00 and can afford to "kick-in" more make another donation to the fund.

Those added donations will be appreciated by every boy, girl, man and woman in Sedalia who is interested in Sedalia becoming one of the outstanding towns in recreation. More so it will mean the difference of having one of the finest stadiums in Central Missouri. It will be the starting of building good, clean, recreation in this city—which needs it very much.

IT has been said that the stadium would be used for football games only. That definitely is a mistaken thought. It can be put to many uses of which all Sedalia will have a chance to use it many, many times during the year.

For one thing. Outdoor religious services which have been held in the past can be held there. Sunrise services could be held there. That is one way it could be used for religion.

So don't get the idea it is a "sports project only".

MISSOURI University and Oklahoma Aggies football game Saturday was no place for anyone who has a bad heart. If a person who had heart trouble lived through it, it was a miracle. We might add it was Mr. Wren and Mr. Hook who sparked the laddies in gold.

There was no kidding, the first half the Tigers looked as if they had enjoyed a weeks vacation. What happened in the dressing room between the team and Coach Don Faurot is anybody's guess, but those who have seen a rodeo and watched the cowboys put the "electric shock" to the bulls and broncs can just about guess that's what happened to Missouri.

In the third quarter after trailing 13-0 at the half, they came back in six minutes to take over the lead 20-13. Oklahoma A. & M. likewise got a shock not looked for and came through with a touchdown but failed to convert the extra point. The quarter closed 20-19. The fourth quarter a battle broke out and it was nip-and-tuck with the Aggies coming through with a TD and converting the extra point to take the lead 26-20. Down to the one inch line the Cow Punchers went but the Tigers tightened up and held. MR. WREN went in for one play and kicked the ball down to the mid-section of the gridiron out of dangerous territory.

The teams worked it up passing rushing and doing about everything in the book. The Tigers took the ball in the last minutes of play when the Aggies failed to kick a field goal. It was Missouri on the 20-yard line and down the field in nine plays with a Wren to Carter pass for the TD and Paul Fuch made a perfect kick to put Missouri ahead 27-26. The gun ending the game came within seconds after the score was made.

If Coach Faurot didn't develop high blood pressure, I assure him there were some thousands of others who did.

PHILLIPS 66 is reaping a harvest on football advertising right on the gridiron in Missouri. Dealing out uniforms to football players is just another job for whoever is in charge and with a group of boys to put 'em out to whomever they fit.

But over at Missouri, Sedalia's own Charles Phillips, a sophomore, who is getting a lot of playing in with the Tigers as a guard. He drew No. 66.

Then Missouri Valley comes up with another Phillips, "Red" Phillips and behold he gets No. 66. "Red" hails for Parsons, Kas.

Ervin Drives Sampson Hanover To New Mark

Harness Racing Records Fall On Fast Delaware, Ohio Oval

A harness horse named Prince Jay paced a mile in 2.00 2/5 in a race at Delaware, Ohio, last week and it almost got lost in the shuffle.

If The Prince, owned by Sol Camp of Shafter, Cal., had turned the trick two days earlier, he would have been acclaimed as the fastest horse ever to race over a half mile track.

But such was the caliber of speed displayed at Delaware that by the time Prince Jay got around to pacing his sensational mile, it was good enough only to rank him as the world champion gelding. Two stallions had already gone faster during the meeting!

The first time it happened was the day before when K. D. Owen's Sampson Hanover pulled twenty lengths out in front of his field and paced home in 1.59 3/5 for Frank Ervin. It was the fastest mile ever posted over a minor oval.

Horsemen, who had waited a hundred years for the first two minute race mile over a half mile track, scarcely had time for the fact to digest before another one had been recorded.

The very next day a 3-year-old pacing colt called Tar Heel captured the $66,000 Little Brown Jug in straight heats that were clocked in 2.01 and two minutes flat.

Tar Heel not only emerged as the fastest half mile track 3-year-old the sport has ever known but his total time for the two heats shattered the all age record as well as the 3-year-old mark in that particular category.

The only horses ever to negotiate a half mile track in two minutes or faster before Delaware were the respective world's champions, the trotter Greyhound and the pacer Billy Direct. Each went in 1:59¾ but each jousted with time and had a prompter accompanying him on his record trip.

Fortunately for the 2-year-old trotter Hardy Hanover, he set his world mark for three heats divided on the first day of the meeting. If he hadn't done it then, and taken advantage of the early applause, he would scarcely have caused a ripple later in the speed-crazy week.

World's Records Established at Delaware, Ohio Sept. 18-20

(All records are for half mile track).

1. SAMPSON HANOVER, br h 4 ormie by Volomite. Owned by K. D. Owen, Houston, Texas. Trained and driven by Frank Ervin.

Sampson Hanover paced the second heat of the $2,500 Almahurst Pace in 1.59 3/5. In so doing he became:

(a) Champion all age pacer displacing Billy Direct 1:59 3/4 (1939).

(b) Champion all age pacer in race, displacing Dusty Hanover 2.00½ (1940).

(c) Champion 4-year-old pacer, displacing White Mountain Boy 2:00 3/5 (1950).

(d) Champion pacer, fastest second heat, displacing Billy Direst 2.00¾ (1939) Dusty Hanover 2:00¾ (1940).

2. TAR HEEL, bl c 3 by Billy Direct. Owned by W. N. Reynolds Estate, Winston-Salem, N. C. Trained by Delvin Miller, driven by Del Cameron.

Tar Heel won the $66,000 Little Brown Jug in straight heats which were timed in 2.01 and 2.00. In so doing he became:

(a) Champion 3-year-old pacer, displacing Mc I Win 2.01¼ (1932).

(b) Champion 3-year-old pacer., two heat race, displacing Knight Dream 4.04 4/5 (1948).

(c) Champion all age pacer two heat race, displacing Dusty Hanover 4.01¼ (1940).

3. PRINCE JAY, b g 5 by Scotland. Owned by Sol Camp, Shafter, Cal. Trained and driven by Wilbur Beattie.

Prince Jay paced the first mile of the $5,000 Big 5 Pace in 2.00 2/5. In so doing he became:

(a) Champion pacing gelding, displacing Winnipeg 2.01 (1928).

4. HARDY HANOVER, b c 2 by Titan Hanover. Owned by W. N. Reynolds Estate, Winston-Salem, N. C. Trained and driven by Del Miller.

Hardy Hanover dropped the first heat of the $5,000 Delaware Gazette Trot to Hit Song in 2.05 3/5 and then came back to beat Hit Song in the next two heats and close out the race in 2.05 3/5 and 2.05. In so doing he became:

MU Scores Late TD To Edge Sooner Ags In 27-26 Thriller

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 29—(AP)—Missouri unleashed an 80-yard scoring drive in the closing minutes to nip Oklahoma A & M 27 to 26, today with tackle Paul Fuchs successful conversion giving the Tigers their narrow margin.

Twice Missouri came from behind to take the high-scoring affair and give it a victory after last week's 34-20 loss to Fordham.

With four minutes to play, Oklahoma A & M held a 26-20 lead and had the Tigers backed to their own 20. Missouri got the ball there after Skippy Warren's attempted field goal from the 17 was short.

Nine plays later Missouri had pushed over the necessary touchdown. The pay-off play was a 10-yard pass on fourth down from Junior Wren to Harold Carter. If the pressure bothered him, Fuchs didn't show it as he booted the game-winning extra point over the crossbars.

Aggies Lead at Half

Although Missouri had a big edge in statistics in the first half, it was Oklahoma A & M that left the field with a 13-0 lead.

Whatever Coach Don Faurot told the Tigers at halftime proved potent. They rolled up three straight touchdowns in the third quarter for a 20-13 lead.

It took only six plays for the first one. Quarterback Jim Hook finished the job on a 34-yard jaunt into the end zone. Hook took over in the first quarter when regular quarterback Bob Schoonmaker injured his elbow.

Aerial fireworks produced the other two. Bill Fessler heaved to Wren for 15 yards and Wren tossed to Harold Carter for 40 yards and a counter. Fuchs made the conversion after the first two, but missed the third to make the score 20-13, Missouri.

Babers Sparks Visitors

A & M refused to accept that situation, though. Sophomore quarterback Don Babers tossed to halfback Clynne Jones for a touchdown. Warren's kick was wide and A & M still trailed 20-19.

Seconds before the third quarter ended guard John Payne recovered Hook's bad pitchout on the Missouri 25. Then Babers fired a 19-yard pass to Wooden for the touchdown and Warren converted.

The 26-20 lead was erased by the fine comeback drive of Faurot's young Tigers, who were frantically batting down Babers' tosses in the final two minutes. The Aggies reached Missouri's 33, but could go no farther.

Score by Quarters:

Oklahoma A & M	0	13	6	7	—26
Missouri	0	0	20	7	—27

Scoring summary: Oklahoma A & M touchdowns—Holderman, Bennett, Jones, Wooden. Pats—Warren 2.

Missouri touchdowns — Hook, Wren, Carter 2. Pats—Paul Fuchs 3.

Cincinnati Over-powers Tulsa University 47-35

CINCINNATI, Sept. 29 — (AP) — Quarterback Gene Rossi passed the University of Cincinnati to a 47-35 victory over Tulsa university in a rugged offensive game played before 25,000 fans here today. The 195-pound junior from Youngstown, O., passed for four Cincinnati touchdowns and run for another.

Jalopy Races Slated Today On VFW Track

The weekly jalopy races, at 28th and Ingram, are one of the few sporting events scheduled in Sedalia today and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2508, the sponsoring organization, has received 15 entries and indications from other top drivers who plan to enter.

The races of the past two Sundays provided many thrills and spills for excitement-seeking Central Missouri racing fans and with the field entered, the VFW expects the same today.

Drivers who have entered are Raymond Heimsoth, driving V. A. Siegel's No. 276; Don Cooper, driving Car No. 99; Sonny Broyles, driving the Harvey Brothers car, No. 69; Herb Thomason of Holden, driving Car No. 8; Bob Paxton, driving Jerry Brown's car, No. 15; Dan Doty, driving the Mid-State Storage Co. car, No. 5; Bennie Burnett, of Jefferson City, driving Car No. 4C; C. W. Padgett, Marshall, driving Car No. 65. Padgett was in first place until his car skidded from the track with four laps to go last week.

Rusty Weaver, driving No. 88; David Ferguson, Odessa, driving No. 7; Bill Wolf, California, driving No. 77; Roll Templeton, driving No. 105; Henry Powell, Warsaw, driving No. 777 and Jewell Kidwell, driving No. 29 are also entered.

Time trials start at 1:30 p. m. with the feature races immediately after the trials.

Mrs. Charles Keele Hostess to Flat Creek Extension Club Women

On Tuesday, September 25, Mrs. Charles Keele, assisted by Mrs. J. J. Wissman, was hostess to the Flat Creek Extension club. A contributive dinner was enjoyed by 17 members and six visitors: Mrs. Robert Potoroff and Mrs. H. Logan, who became a member of the club, Mrs. Mattie Baldwin, Mrs. Keele, Miss Blanche Anderson and Mrs. Joe Wolfe.

Mrs. R. C. Wissman presided at the meeting and the song leader, Mrs. I. F. Snow, led in group singing. All present officers were reelected for the coming year. Mrs. J. T. Edmundson was elected as assistant reporter.

At the close of the meeting secret pal gifts were distributed.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Paul Mowry with Mrs. Charles Keele and Mrs. J. T. Edmundson assisting.

First Place To Pettis Team

Pettis county's 4-H club home furnishings judging team won first place in the state 4-H club contests held at Columbia Friday. The girls received a blue ribbon as a team and then were selected, from the blue ribbon group, as the number one judging team in the state.

Lillian Bahner, route 2, Sedalia, a member of the Striped College 4-H club, tied for second place in the contest among individuals while Eleanor Van Dyke, route 1, Smithton; South Abell 4-H clubbers tied for third and Ida Mae Bahner placed sixth. Lillian and Eleanor both received blue ribbons. Together they made up the Pettis county team.

Shirley Eichholz, Smithton, a member of the Ringen-Brushy 4-H club, received a red ribbon in the girls' grooming contest.

These were the only Pettis county 4-H'ers taking part in the state contests. They won their right to go to the state by winning in county and district contests previously this year.

Miss Lillian Watkins, county home agent, and Miss Mary Ellen Leonard, assistant agent, accompanied the girls to Columbia and remained there with them Saturday when they were all guests of the University of Missouri for the football game with Oklahoma A & M.

31 Churches In Seminar Held

With a total of 31 churches being represented in the attendance of 248, the Sedalia district of the Woman's Society for Christian Service of the Methodist church held the missionary education seminar at Appleton City, Sept. 26, and Smithton, Sept. 27.

A very interesting and inspiring program on the theme, "The Church for You Doth Wait," had been prepared by Mrs. Jim Briscoe of Tipton, who presided at the meetings.

Those participating on the program were: Mrs. Lee Soxman, Sedalia; Mrs. Lowell Glaze, Sedalia; Mrs. S. O. Brill, Lincoln; Mrs. Roy Bowers, Sedalia; Mrs. M. E. Williamson, Smithton; and Mrs. Briscoe.

A fellowship hour was enjoyed around luncheon tables at noon.

Rodgers Asks $25,000 From Tractor Company

M. C. "Cal" Rodgers filed a $25,000 damage suit against the D. and D. Tractor and Equipment company, a corporation, of Kansas City in the Pettis County Circuit Court Friday. Rodgers is represented by William F. Brown and Fred F. Wesner, local attorneys.

The petition states that Rodgers and the defendant entered into a contract on Feb. 21, 1949 by which Rodgers would operate as an authorized dealer of agricultural implements, machinery, parts, and accessories as produced by Harry Ferguson, incorporated.

Rodgers alleges that the defendant, without just cause and without giving notice, canceled the contract on July 3, 1951. He claims by that the contract was breached and his business had been damaged in the sum of $25,000. He asked the $25,000 and costs.

Tanglenook Club Has Election

Mrs. Louis Hammond and Mrs. Gordon Greer were hostesses for the Tanglenook Neighbors Extension club Sept. 25. There were 12 members present and Mrs. Golden Payne was a guest at the home of Mrs. Hammond.

The president, Mrs. J. W. Newland, presided as the meeting opened with the group singing, "God Bless Our Native Land," followed by the devotional led by Mrs. Bishop Ream.

Plans were made for achievement day after which an article on "Friendliness" was read by Mrs. Floyd Potter. Officers were elected for the coming year as follows:

Mrs. J. W. Newland, president; Mrs. Harvey Ream, vice-president; Mrs. Howard Dirck, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Floyd Potter, reporter; Mrs. John Newland, song leader; Mrs. J. L. Reine, game leader.

The club voted to sponsor the Tanglenook 4-H club for the coming year. The Oct. 23rd meeting will be with Mrs. J. L. Reine.

BURKHOLDER IS BEST EQUIPPED
To Supply your Bulk and Bottle Gas Needs The Year' round

Aerial view of the Burkholder Gas Storage and Bottling Plant, located in Northwest Sedalia on the Missouri Pacific Railroad Spur, just north of the Missouri Pacific Stockyards on North Park avenue. Adjoining the railroad tracks are the two huge bulk storage tanks and in the foreground can be seen the two bulk gas delivery trucks and three of the four tank delivery and service trucks. This is one of the largest Propane Gas Storage areas in Central Missouri.

BULK PLANT PERSONNEL

Mr. Elbert Cravens
Gas Dept. Manager
In Charge of All Sales and Service

Mr. Cravens comes to Burkholders from Richmond, Missouri where he owned and operated a similar business for the past 6 years. Prior to that time he was employed as service foreman for the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Co. at Moline, Illinois. Mr. Cravens is thoroughly experienced in the problems of propane gas installations and service and will be happy to discuss your Propane Gas installations with you.

Properly Trained Personnel

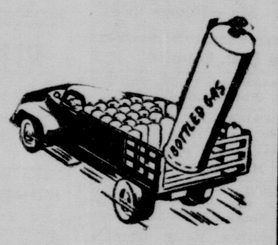
Mr. Cravens has at his disposal a staff of seven properly trained men who are available for service and delivery work. They are:

- Norbert Frank
- "Dutch" Morris
- Bob McDonald
- Delmar Cook
- Clayton Morris
- "Salty" Schumaker
- Vernon Harms

BETTER SERVICE

HERE'S WHY!

Burkholder's can give you better Propane Gas service because they have one of the largest storage areas in Central Missouri. Their two large storage tanks will hold a total of 37,000 gallons of Propane Gas for emergency use. Two bulk delivery trucks hold 2600 gallons. Four bottle trucks are available to give fast delivery service at all times.



EMERGENCY SUPPLY

Our source of supply of Propane Gas will give us emergency service by motor transport if necessary. Burkholder's is the only dealer in this area who has the emergency service.

Liz and Philip: Royal But Real

North America Will Discover They Are As Uncomplicated As the Folks Next Door

SYMBOL OF YOUTH AND HOPE: In Britain—and even much further afield—Elizabeth and Philip are more than a couple destined to some day rule the British empire as Queen and Consort.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Five years ago, the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip was the climax to a royal romance that captured the hearts of the world. Now North America is waiting for its first glimpse of the royal couple, coming across the Atlantic next month for a five-week tour of Canada and a brief visit to Washington. Here's the first of five dispatches that give you an intimate and human closeup of the Princess and her husband who'll some day rule the British empire.

By Arthur J. Mathers
NEA Special Correspondent

LONDON—When the people of North America see the most romantic royal couple of the Western World for the first time next month, they will discover that talking with Elizabeth and Philip of England is as uncomplicated as a visit with the folks next door.

For all the glamor and dignity that surrounded her as the first girl to stand directly in succession to the British throne for more than a century, Princess Elizabeth has the unfailing ability to put people immediately at their ease.

To her husband, Prince Philip, who has spent most of his life among the ordinary people of many lands, easy and informal conversation is as natural as breathing and as unpatronizing as a high school class reunion.

The 25-year-old Princess with the peach complexion has what is described as the "most generous smile in Europe." Her 30-year-old sailor Prince is six feet tall, athletic, and Viking-blond. Together, they are more than a man and woman destined to some day rule the vast British Commonwealth of Nations as Queen and Consort.

In austere Britain — and even much further afield—they are an effective symbol of youth and hope, of domestic happiness, good looks, easy natural charm, and all the other factors that go to make up a real belief in the future.

Pessimists who said that Kings, Queens and royal families are museum pieces have been silenced by the dedicated services of the present King and Queen. They are likely to continue silent when Elizabeth is called upon to occupy the throne.

Although both Elizabeth and Philip are great-great-grandchildren of Queen Victoria, the family connection between them is too remote to be clearly defined in everyday terms.

BABY PRINCESS: On her first birthday, Elizabeth wore the coral necklace her own daughter, Princess Anne, was to wear when she was a year old.

Elizabeth descends in the direct line of English kings from her great forbear. Philip's family tree, however, is intricately interwoven with the noble—and mostly exiled — families of Greece, Germany and Denmark. Through his aunt, Lady Louis Mountbatten, Philip can even claim a family connection with Pocahontas.

The marriage of Elizabeth and Philip in 1947 was no "royal match made in the Chancelleries of Europe."

Elizabeth's father, King George VI, is far too liberal a monarch, too fond a parent and too conscious of his own happy marriage to permit anything other than a genuine love match for his daughter and heir presumptive.

Yet it would be difficult to find a royal couple with such strangely different childhood backgrounds and such contrasting personalities who, at the same time, are a constant complement to each other.

While it is true that each was born in line of succession to a throne, no one foresaw even a remote possibility that either individually or together they would ever have to prepare for constitutional rulership.

Philip was a four-year-old royal exile in Paris when Elizabeth was born in 1926.

That year was to Britain more significant for the general strike which shook the nation than for the birth of a daughter to the quiet, home-loving Duke of York. The Duke's dashing 31-year-old elder brother, then Prince of Wales, had a firm grip on the hearts of the British public as their future King.

But if in 1926 industrial strife overshadowed Elizabeth's birth, Philip's had already been overshadowed by the bitter Turko-Grecian war into which he was born in 1921 on the island of Corfu.

Officially, he was Prince Philip of Greece, yet his veins knew no heritage of Grecian blood. Because of the strange and apparently illogical manipulation of the royal houses of Europe in the early 1900's, the King of Greece—Philip's grandfather—was a Dane.

His father, Prince Andrew, had married English-born Princess Alice, sister of the fabulous Lord Louis Mountbatten—brilliant sailor and leader of men in war and peace — who was eventually to have a tremendous influence on Philip's career.

Before Philip was a year old, he had his first experience with the Royal Navy — escape from revolutionists, with his parents and five sisters, to England on a British destroyer.

When his father moved the family to Paris, already a city of sanctuary for royal exiles, Philip was a boy without a surname—just Prince Philip of Greece.

For him, the "Prince" was out. He was "just Philip," and so he sturdily told his schoolmarms in the American school at St. Cloud.

In turn, the schoolmarms respected his independence and self-reliance, a trait which he still possesses in full measure. It made it possible for him to hold the comradeship and respect of his shipmates—both subordinates and superiors — throughout his naval career.

It was a great factor in gaining first the interest and later the deep fatherly affection of his uncle, Lord Mountbatten. It was also at the Mountbatten house that Philip first met Elizabeth, although both have forgotten the exact circumstances.

Italy Supplies Builders

ROME—(AP)—American construction industry is turning to Italy for scarce materials. Among the items American builders are seeking to import from Italy are pozzuolana, pomice and perlite.

Pozzuolanic mortar, composed of lime and dust of volcanic origin, was used in ancient Roman buildings, perlite is a volanic glass used for insulation. Pomice, a substitute for rock and gravel, greatly reduces the weight of concrete.

Senators Help Themselves To Switch-Blade Knives

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — While the Senate criticized RFC officials for accepting hams, two senators helped themselves to a handful of free switch-blade knives the other day from the sample case of a manufacturer.

The manufacturer was Joseph Schrade, president of the Schrade-Waldon Cutlery corporation, who begged the senators not to outlaw his switch-blade knife as a dangerous weapon.

"Have you got one with you?" asked Sen. Olin Johnson, South Carolina Democrat.

"Yes, sir," replied Schrade, hoisting up a sample case full of knives.

"I hope you have no objection to passing a few out in the Senate," blurted Sen. Herman Welker, Idaho Republican, eyeing the knives covetously. "I need a good pocketknife."

"We came along with that idea in mind," agreed Schrade, anxious to please.

Welker grabbed a box of small switch-blade knives and promptly began dividing them up. Then the Idaho senator spied an expensive leather-handled knife and reached for it.

"Be careful with that," cautioned Schrade as he gloomily watched Welker take it. "Be careful the way it opens. It comes out with a snap."

As Welker tested the blade approvingly, Schrader pleaded: "You don't know what a disappointment it is to me that after making a product for 50 years, I find that they used it for crime."

"That's right," agreed the Idaho senator, still fingering the knife enviously. Then he suggested: "Why couldn't the staff protect this gentleman by using language (outlawing) a 'switch-blade with a blade longer than three inches?"

Schrade agreed this would help. But as he shut his sample case, he politely took the expensive knife back from Welker—though leaving the two senators with a fistful of smaller knives.

"I am glad you came," smiled Welker, "but I wish you had brought some finer knives."

Smearing Ike

The first step in a smear campaign to keep General Eisenhower out of the White House is being circulated in Maine. It's an unfair attempt to link Eisenhower with the Communists.

The smear was printed by the so-called Partisan Republicans of California (whoever they are), and was mailed to all members of the Maine Republican committee by GOP State Chairman Ralph Masterman. But the interesting thing is that the decision to circulate this below-the-belt propaganda was made at the home of a U.S. senator who happens to be masterminding the Taft-for-President campaign—Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine.

The same smear sheet also unfairly attacks Gov. Earl Warren of California and ex-Governor Stassen of Minnesota, and names them along with Eisenhower as the "three principal 'prospects' which Communists and New Dealers are expected to try to impose on the Republican ticket."

The smear sheet shows a cartoon of a loving Stalin pinning a medal on a chesty Eisenhower. Underneath is the caption: "When an arch criminal decorates an individual, this individual must have served him well."

Actually, Russia handed out medals to several prominent Americans, and the United States decorated several prominent Russians during the wartime alliance.

In another twisted statement, the smear sheet declares: "The Communist party did not officially support Eisenhower for the presidency, but gave him a great ovation and boost at their convention in New York on May 20, 1944."

The anti-Eisenhower sheet also reports: "Communists unanimously greeted three great men, who were: Joseph Stalin, Marshal Tito and Dwight Eisenhower. Since then Tito has fallen into Soviet disfavor; as to Eisenhower — we have no information one way or the other."

Keeping the Record Straight

Just to keep the record straight, it should be remembered:

1. Eisenhower is the chief target of Communist propaganda in Europe. The Communists have plastered western Europe with anti-Eisenhower posters, and are doing their best to sabotage Eisenhower's efforts to build up a Western European army.

2. The Communists also gave Senator McCarthy a boost in his primary campaign against ex-Senator La Follette of Wisconsin. When newsmen asked McCarthy about his Communist support, he replied: "The Communists have a right to vote." Yet the Partisan Republicans of California don't hold this against McCarthy.

3. Senator Brewster not only gave his personal okay to sending out the anti-Eisenhower literature at a time when he is trying to fight Communism, but Ralph Masterman, who actually mailed the smear sheets, is Brewster's chief political lieutenant.

Grateful Guests

One of the most sought-after jobs in the Pentagon is held by Navy Commander John P. Floyd, conference director for the Secretary of Defense.

Floyd's job is to arrange the itinerary and invitations to the Defense department's joint orientation conferences. To these conferences, held several times a year, are invited industry leaders, professors, key publishers and other VIPs to visit various military bases to study the defense program.

What makes Commander Floyd's job so attractive is the precedent established by some of the Defense department's guests who are invited to the orientation conferences. Afterward he has received some handsome gifts.

For example, after last spring's conference, the invited guests got together and gave Commander Floyd $205 worth of flat silver, especially designed to match Floyd's family pattern. Another $25 in cash was given to Mrs. Floyd to enable her to buy a few silver trinkets. The conferees also expressed their gratitude to Floyd's assistants, giving two of them special Parker pen desk sets.

Note—There are two more orientation conferences scheduled for this fall.

Looking Backward

Forty Years

Prof. G. V. Buchanan, superintendent of Joplin schools, formerly in a like position in Sedalia, was here superintending the display of the Joplin schools at the Missouri State fair which has arrived.

A. C. Dingle, of Moberly, arrived to assist in the conducting of the racing events at the Missouri State fair.

President William Howard Taft, Saturday, September 30, was the state's most distinguished visitor as the Missouri State fair of 1911 opened. State officials, members of the fair board, prominent citizenry of Sedalia and elsewhere greeted the president who was taken at the head of an automobile caravan from the fair grounds on arrival there through the city. He bowed generously to all the crowds as the party passed. Returning to the fair grounds he was met by a multitude at the coliseum. W. A. Dallmeyer, of Jefferson City, president of the fair board introduced Gov. Herbert S. Hadley, who in turn presented the President, who delivered a lengthly address on national affairs. While here he had dinner at the Sedalia Country club and participated in a round of golf.

Persons With Allergies Should First Find Cause and Then Avoid It in the Future

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Several persons have written in recently with questions on allergies. The best way to cure most of these is to find the cause and then do your utmost to stay away from it.

Q—Please tell me what causes one to break out in hives. I broke out so bady all over my body . . . that I fainted away twice.
—R. W. W.

A—Hives or urticaria is a form of allergy. It is the result of being abnormally sensitive to some substance eaten, breathed in, or otherwise contacted. The problem is to locate the exact substance and stay away from it. Unfortunately in many cases of hives, this turns out to be extraordinarily difficult.

* * *

Q—My husband is badly troubled with asthma. Now I have house plants and he thinks they may have something to do with it. What do you think?—Mrs. R.B.

A—It is certainly possible. Why not take the plants outside for a week or two and see if he gets better?

* * *

Q—What is the cause of a burning mouth and tongue even though the digestion is good?
—Reader.

A—There are several possibilities. One thing to consider is the presence of fillings in the teeth made of different kinds of metal. Certain kinds of anemia or vitamin deficiencies can produce such symptoms. It should be investigated.

* * *

Q—For the last year and a half my husband has had trouble with the skin and nails of several fingers on each hand. He does clock and watch repairing and has hands are often in contact with a cleaning compound. His difficulty started about the same time he began his work. Have you any suggestions?—Mrs. S. L. R.

A—It is quite possible that some chemical in the cleaning fluid is causing his skin and nail difficulty. He can be tested for this If it is the source of trouble he will either have to change his occupation or wear some protective glove (or possibly ointment) in order to recover.

* * *

Q—Please advise the reason why the pupil in one eye is several times larger than the other at ALL times.—Worried.

A—There are several possibilities: It can be an inborn or congenital difference; it can be the result of injury. Also it could be the result of some lesion in the brain. One would have to know more to tell which.

* * *

Q—What can be done for a fungous infection under the toe nails? I have tried foot baths and powders but the condition keeps getting worse.—Mrs. A. V.

A—Fungous infections of the nails are often stubborn to treat. Sometimes X-rays have been used effectively; sometimes the nails have to be removed before the infection can be eradicated.

* * *

Q—Please tell me what causes my hair in different places to come out in patches. Washing the hair once a week and brushing it 100 times a day does not help.
—Mrs. J. H.

A—This sounds like a condition known as alopecia areata or baldness in spots. If it is, the hair will probably grow back eventually. However, washing and brushing will make little difference. There are some preparations which can be applied which probably would hasten the return of the hair.

Perfection Can Weary Anybody--Even Your Husband

For years women have been told that they must ALWAYS do certain things in order to hold a husband's love.

That they should ALWAYS meet a home-coming husband wearing a fresh dress, with shining hair and lijstick just applied, etc.

That they should ALWAYS greet a home-coming husband with a smile and kiss.

That they should ALWAYS get up and cook a hot breakfast for their husbands and send them off to work in a cheerful frame of mind.

That they should ALWAYS make themselves companionable by learning to do the things their husbands enjoy doing.

And so on and on.

That is all good advice—except for one thing. It doesn't allow for a change of pace.

The husband whose wife has her looks up to the peak of perfection EVERY evening isn't likely to ever startle him into noticing how special she looks some evenings.

Perpetual Smile Isn't Natural

The wife who always greets her husband with a smile and a welcoming kiss never gives him a chance to see that she sometimes, too, has a hard day or gets discouraged. He can learn that she can become so absorbed in something else that her husband's home-coming can on occasion seem less than momentous.

The wife who takes up every hobby her husband takes up doesn't let him enjoy anything on his own. A man might just possibly enjoying fishing because it gives him a chance to get off alone occasionally.

And so it goes. Give a man a steady diet of anything—even perfection, and it is bound to either grow monotonous in time or seem so customary it goes unnoticed.

Always is an awesome word. It's a change of pace now and then that makes any human being continually interesting.

THE STORY: Captured by Sioux after the Fetterman massacre, John Clayton, former Indian scout, has been permitted to go to visit Star of the North, an Indian holy woman who nursed him to health after his wounds in battle. Star recognizes Clayton, known as Cetan Mani, Walking Hawk, as he surprises her in the Black Hills.

XII

WE had not far to go to where Hussein awaited us, small ears up in curiosity, wicked eyes glaring as he saw I came in company with another. All this time my mind raced with my pulse at a hammering gait, but with a million questions thronging my thoughts, I could not voice so much as a word of one of them.

We stood a moment thus, facing each other, her upturned child's face coming barely to my chest, my head bent forward and down so that her glorious hair lay just beneath my lips. A vagrant breeze lifted one of the soft curls.

Sioux is a language of reality. The Indian mind and tongue do not concern themselves with refined emotion.

"I love you," I said hoarsely, in English. And seized her to smash my mouth against hers.

She staggered back from it as though from a blow in the face, her slim hand held with its back to her bruised lips, nostrils wide, emerald eyes on fire. I was aware then that her features mirrored a look which superseded any possible anger, hurt, incredulity. It was a look of fear, the fear of the unknown.

"Wonunicun," I murmured, employing the sole word in the Sioux vocabulary which may be spoken in apology. Literally it means, "A mistake has been made."

"No!" She whispered, her voice thick with emotion. "The thing was not a mistake. But I know not what it was and I am afraid."

"It is a kiss," I said, slowly. "It is a sign among my people, sacred to lovers. Its meaning is that I would have you dwell in my tipi forever."

She felt her lips wonderingly with arched fingertips as I talked, meanwhile shaking her head in disbelieving negation.

When a custom is so deeply seated within a race as to be almost an instinct, it is hard to imagine another race being in ignorance of its use and import.

"When you have touched me now, with your mouth," pausing here to lay a tapering forefinger upon my lips, "I know that no other man may stand before you outside my tipi door. But neither may you stand there. For I am Wiyan Wakan and no man may wait outside my lodge."

* * *

I KNEW we had come upon dangerous ground so, like the good military man I assumed myself to be, my next move was to evacuate the position with the least possible delay and loss.

"This I have known and have wrestled with it in my heart, bringing therefrom a vision, a dream, which bade me come to you." I shot her a quick glance, wondering how I was getting across. No whit reassured. I stumbled on. "This I have told Crazy Horse, and he has brought me here to council with you. His heart is bad within him also, but he knows not what to do."

"Nor do I," she announced, simply. "Though my heart is good and speaks to me with a straight tongue."

By this I took she meant she gave full cognizance to the feeling between us, but dared not question her further on it.

"We shall council then," I suggested, trying to sound casual, "with Crazy Horse, upon our return?"

"So be it. But my spirit lies quietly, breathing not of hope."

Thinking to retrieve our former, lighter mood, before her spirit began to lie any more quietly or breathe any less vigorously, I suggested a race to the foot of the mesa incline. This seemed to strike the proper note, for she was at once all smiles I was later to find the pagan priestess and the delighted child never far separated in this strange girl.

At the moment my proposal was a lucky shot, serving to stave off a retreatless impasse.

As we spoke, we stood about ten feet from Hussein, who all the time had been conducting himself peculiarly; poking his head out in our direction, snuffling and flaring his nostrils to sample our scent, flicking his ears to catalogue our voices, in general acting more like an inquisitive weanling than the yellow-toothed old killer he was.

"And what will the wager be?" Star laughed, excitedly. Then, before I could answer, "I know. You shall bring me the heart of a great enemy of our people. And you shall lay it before my tipi, that I may know you are truly the warrior they say you are."

"The wager is fair," I laughed, in turn. "But what if you lose?" I had in mind, of course, a footrace.

"I shall not lose!" she shouted, wheeling suddenly. "For even the Hawk is not so swift as the Horse!" With that she leaped for Hussein with the speed of a darting hare. I had no chance to stop her, only being able to cry out in terror. "No, Star! Keep away from him! He'll kill—"

* * *

ALAS, what fools we males are. And that goes for you, too, Hussein, you traitorous dog!

Yes, I was left standing there, all fat and stupid, my terrified warning still resting peacefully in my strictured larynx, while Star, swinging gracefully to the willing back of my erstwhile warhorse, galloped off.

Hussein had the temerity to look back and fling me a whinnying horselaugh before settling into his stride and skimming off over the valley floor, sailing over frozen creek and bush alike, as smooth and easy as any bird, quite obviously as happy.

First of all, you should come in and place your order—just as soon as circumstances will permit.

There is now—as there has been for many years—a waiting list of wonderful people who wish to own this wonderful car. And the sooner your name joins this distinguished list—the sooner your hope will be realized.

And once your signature is on an order blank—hold firm to your purpose.

This may not be easy—for temptation is almost certain to assail you!

Cars without number may be had today—almost as soon as you agree to accept them. And, quite naturally, people who sell these available cars may ask you to shift your preference from Cadillac.

But, again, we urge you to hold firm—for the sake of your own welfare and your own satisfaction.

Remember—it's Cadillac you want.

Cadillac—with its universal and pride-inspiring recognition as the Standard of the World!

Cadillac—with such performance that owners actually think up excuses for taking to the highway!

Cadillac—with such amazing endurance that its full life-span has never yet been measured!

Cadillac—with economy so extraordinary that few cars, at any price, will run farther on a gallon of gasoline!

Yes—if you want a Cadillac, come in and order it. And then stand firm until you get it.

It's far, far better to wait—than be sorry. For, remember, there is nothing that can take its place.

'Arsenic and Old Lace,' First Playhouse Attraction

"Arsenic and Old Lace," the opening presentation of the Sedalia Community Playhouse 1951-1952 season, is now in its final week of rehearsal.

The play, a comedy-farce, will be presented at Smith-Cotton auditorium the nights of October 9 and 10, at 8:00 p.m., under the direction of Emma Gardner.

The story takes place in Brooklyn in the home of the Brewster sisters, two elderly spinsters, who as a "charitable" act have poisoned 12 homeless old men and buried them in their cellar. Marguerite Peabody and Imogene May are cast in these roles.

Miss May is a newcomer to the Playhouse this season, while Mrs. Peabody will be remembered for her stellar performance as Madam Arcotti, the spiritualist medium, in "Blythe Spirit."

The romantic interest is supplied by Eva Myers and Frank Evans, cast as Elaine Harper and Mortimer Brewster. Mike Bogutski, in the sinister role of Jonathan Brewster, a homicidal maniac, and Alexander Elskin as Dr. Einstein, a plastic surgeon who changes Jonathan's face after each of his many crimes, supply some spine - tingling moments. What happens when they confuse one of their victims with one of the sisters' is a source of merriment throughout the play.

Teddy Brewster, who thinks he is President Theodore Roosevelt, and that all the bodies are yellow fever victims, for whom he digs graves in the Panama Canal, is assigned to Scott Webber.

Others in the cast are: Ted Gardner, as the Rev. Dr. Harper; Jim Green and Ed Ringen as Police Officers Brophy and Klein; Winston Wood as Mr. Gibbs; John Erickson as Officer O'Hara; Larry Riley as Lieut. Rooney of the Brooklyn homicide squad; and Paul Burke as Mr. Witherspoon.

The set is being designed and constructed by Maurice F. Hogan, assisted by W. E. Bruce. Mary Beth Ringen will be in charge of properties, and stage make-up is under the supervision of Louise Klein.

The Motion Picture Association of America estimates 60,000,000 admissions are paid into American movie theaters each week.

Restoration To Colonial Williamsburg

Long Time Task Devoted To Making Of "Live" History

By Harry Nash

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Sept. 29 —(AP)—Colonial Williamsburg, the time machine that carries you back two centuries is nearing the end of its first 25 years of new life.

Product of one man's dream and another man's millions, the restored little city provides an educational short cut to political, social and cultural colonial life before the American Revolution.

Officials of Colonial Williamsburg estimate more than 6,000,000 persons have visited the city since the restoration of the Virginia colony's capital to its 18th century appearance was begun in 1926.

Of the $44,500,000 which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., provided for the restoration, more than $30,000,000 has been spent. To date, 675 buildings have been removed or demolished, more than 350 buildings reconstructed and 70 buildings and 80 gardens have been restored.

Officials expect to complete by 1958 the remainder of the project's physical aspects. These will include removal of 25 to 50 buildings, reconstruction of 100 more and restoration of a dozen. Some $5,500,000 will be spent on this. The remainder of Rockefeller's $44,500,000 will provide for contingent projects.

Past Brought Alive

The past quarter-century has seen the American past brought alive over an area that covers 216 acres of the city. This has been done by Colonial Williamsburg, Inc., a non-profit, educational organization formed by Rockefeller.

"If Colonial Williamsburg is to serve its real purpose," says its president, Kenneth Chorley, "its principal concern must not be with the bare bones of history, nor with research or architecture, nor with the restoration of buildings and gardens. Colonial Williamsburg is dedicated to the far larger task of preserving in a vivid form the great concepts of the leaders of colonial times."

C. C. Hall, who has operated a drug store in Williamsburg for 40 years, says the restoration has had "a very favorable effect on the community's business life."

Twenty-five years ago, he said, "merchants closed up and went fishing whenever they wanted to, as business was so slow. Today, they don't get much time for fishing."

He estimates that business volume of the average Williamsburg merchant is about 300 per cent greater now than in 1925.

"A few citizens have criticized the restoration project, but 95 per cent of them feel it has been a great thing for the community," Hall said.

"The critics were mostly older citizens who just didn't want any changes in the town. And even some of them are changing their minds."

November 27 will mark the end of the restoration project's first 25 years. On that date in 1926 Rockefeller authorized the late Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin, Episcopal minister of Williamsburg, to obtain preliminary architectural studies for the restoration of the city's central portions.

Dr. Goodwin, who had long dreamed of restoring ancient scenes, had been trying for two years to interest Rockefeller in the project.

After much research and surveying the first exhibit building was opened in 1932. This is the reconstructed Raleigh tavern, where colonial patriots plotted over their ale to throw off England's yoke.

In 1934 two more reconstructed buildings were opened. These are the capitol, where Patrick Henry protested the Stamp act and was accused of treason and where George Mason's Virginia bill of rights became law, and the governor's palace, symbol of the crown's power.

Many other restored and reconstructed buildings give visitors a look-see at the business and social life of their forefathers. Most are occupied by Williamsburg residents.

Admission Charges

Operating and maintenance costs are met by charges for admission to the exhibit buildings, sales of reproductions and publications, rentals from stores and homes and profits from the operation of two hotels and several restaurants. These business operations are handled by a subsidiary corporation, Williamsburg Restoration, Inc.

Dr. Goodwin's enthusiasm has been communicated to many of the 1,100 persons employed by Colonial Williamsburg. A. Edwin Kendrew, vice president and resident architect, whose staff includes 30 architects, archeologists, engineers and landscape architects, says his men spend many of their week-ends hunting ancient foundations and inspecting old buildings.

Kendrew said the schedule of restoration and reconstruction has not "slowed down too much" despite scarcity of materials under government controls, and the loss of some construction workers to shipyards and defense jobs.

"We are now studying plans for reconstruction of the palace stables," he said. "We can go ahead with the stables which require no critical materials."

Mrs. Philip Nelson, one of the costumed hostesses who escort visitors through the Raleigh tavern, says "I love the work." She has been a hostess since 1932.

"Each group of visitors asks different questions," she said. "Their questions stimulate me. Most visitors are deeply interested in what they see and hear."

Mrs. Nelson says the average visitor is impressed most by the capitol. The visitors come from all over the United States. Great numbers have come from the west coast. "I believe everyone in California has come here in the last year or two," she added.

Those responsible for the restoration of Williamsburg have a concept far broader than buildings and gardens.

John D. Rockefeller III, son of the man whose millions restored the city and now chairman of the board of Colonial Williamsburg, told this reporter:

"Colonial Williamsburg must help make history — not simply serve as a reminder of history. Man's struggle to rise through oppression and tyranny to the light of liberty is eternal. The job is never done."

IT'S ALL WRIGHT—After 10 years of refusing to pose for pictures like this, Teresa Wright, Hollywood's last hold-out against "cheesecake" photos, finally gave in. Some critics had said she is bowlegged, with thick calves. Some critics now have red faces.

Oversight Invites Trouble

MARION, Ill.,—(AP)—The city of Marion's policy had been to buy fire insurance for all its buildings except the fire station. But when fire damaged its first city building in years, it was the fire station.

It set council to pondering whether to get robbery insurance for the city clerk's office and water department—both under the police station.

Point Four Agreement

RALEIGH — (AP) — North Carolina State college is one of four land grant colleges in the nation which have recently signed agreements for collaboration in Point Four agricultural projects in Latin American countries. Under the agreement the College has contracted with the U.S. Department of Agriculture to furnish biometric surveys in cooperation with the department in areas to be decided upon as the need arises.

The surveys, Chancellor J. W. Harrelson explains, are designed to afford accurate information as to the seeds and plants suitable to certain climatic, soil and physical conditions. They will show the types and species of plants which can be grown successfully in areas where food crops are insufficient for local needs or to furnish economically sound new products.

Point Four is a broad program of technical cooperation with underdeveloped areas of the world. Other land grant institutions participating in the recently signed agreements are New Mexico Agricultural and Mechanical college, Purdue university and the University of Minnesota.

U. S. Official Tours Malaya Rubber Estates

PENANG —(AP)— Warren S. Lockwood, chief of the Natural Rubber Bureau in Washington, thinks rubber planters in Malaya are doing a good job.

Lockwood, touring Malaya to urge the production of more rubber powder for road-building said here "if every American would take the trouble as myself to visit Malaya and see for himself the magnificent job being done in rubber estates under severest odds, I am sure the American government would realize the vital importance of increased use of natural rubber."

Lockwood is going to Indonesia after completing a 12-day tour in Malaya.

Pooch on a Limb

MISSOULA, Mont. — (AP) — Among good deeds of the Missoula fire department is the rescue of an 80-pound Labrador dog from a tree.

Firemen say a couple of boys had carried the pooch to their tree house 20 feet above the ground and were unable to bring him down again.

Shipping Shortage

Reluctant To Take Chance Of Party Split

That By Backers Of Taft May Save Gabrielson Job

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—(AP)—Backers of Senator Taft (R-Ohio) are reluctant to chance a party-splitting fight within the national committee. And that reluctance may save the job of Republican National Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson.

Taft, an almost certain candidate for the 1952 GOP presidential nomination, has told party colleagues he wants Gabrielson to have a chance to state his side of an RFC loan case before any decisions are made.

It is the apparent hope of Taft that Gabrielson's explanation of his activities in behalf of the Carthage Hydrocol, Inc., Texas gasoline process firm, will bring a favorable public reaction.

Senator Williams (R-Del.) told the Senate last week he regarded it as "highly improper" for Gabrielson, president and counsel for the firm at a $15,000 yearly salary, to petition the RFC for an extension of time to pay the $18,500,000 in loans it obtained.

The RFC announced that there won't be any extension of $250,000 in payments due Monday. Gabrielson previously has said they would be paid.

Taft Somewhat Vexed

Taft has said publicly he found nothing "morally wrong" in Gabrielson's action in seeking a loan extension.

But the Ohio senator privately has indicated he is just as vexed at the national chairman as are many of his other Senate colleagues because he believes Gabrielson ineptly gave the Democrats a chance to counter the influence peddling charges being made against William M. Boyle, Jr., Democratic national chairman.

Republicans in Congress generally believed they had an issue against Boyle and his defender, President Truman, which could be carried into the 1952 presidential campaign.

Accordingly, several Republicans demanded publicly that Gabrielson resign.

If the issue had been put to a vote among Republican senators, Gabrielson would have been out of his political job already. The senators don't vote in the national committee, however, although they do have influence with committeemen from their individual states who do.

Taft and his backers have a lot to say about who is national chairman. They are generally credited with having swung the election of Gabrielson in the first place. He won by only a few votes after Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., of Pennsylvania quit the chairmanship.

If the Taft people decided Gabrielson had to go, the national chairman's position probably would be untenable.

The national committee apparently can't fire a chairman but Gabrielson probably wouldn't want to remain if majority support were withdrawn from him.

But if Gabrielson went out, the Taft camp figures it would have a fight on its hands over the election of a new chairman. Such a row might well split the party into two warring factions only a few months before the 1952 campaign.

Eisenhower Backers

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Senator Duff (R-Pa.) and other backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would be certain to make a strong bid to elect someone friendly to them as chairman.

Former Gov. Stassen of Minnesota, likely to be a presidential candidate on his own, probably would join the Eisenhower group in this effort as would supporters of Gov. Earl Warren of California.

Taft's friends think they could win such a fight now. But apparently would rather not have to go through a battle which might affect sharply their efforts to line up delegates for the 1952 nomination.

As matters stand, Taft hopes to inherit support from some of the other presidential hopefuls if they fall by the wayside at the convention. He apparently thinks the way to win somewhat reluctant friends of this kind does not lie in letting them get lined up in an intra-party fight against him.

Gabrielson has already explained he felt he was only doing his duty to Carthage Hydrocol in asking for an extension of the loans. He said a Republican national chairman couldn't possibly have any influence with a Democratic administration and therefore couldn't be classed with Boyle in that respect.

Williams raised the issue that a Republican chairman might have more influence than he knew because he spoke for a party which might come to power soon.

The late President Roosevelt once forced two officials off the Democratic national committee because he said they were trading on their influence for private firms with the government.

Many of the commiteemen of both parties, all of them unpaid officials, are lawyers representing firms doing business with the government. Some of them are manufacturers or heads of businesses which have government contracts.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) said if Congress was going to investigate the activities of all such persons any committee that undertook it would be busy for a long, long time.

President Truman has made it clear he believes officials of both parties — paid or unpaid — have the right to call up government agencies and make appointments for friends. But he draws the line at their taking any fees for such activities.

Model House Project

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The University of California is building a model house in which six senior home economics students will live each semester. They will get training as teachers of modern living methods.

The three-bedroom home with an apartment for the director and modern equipment will cost $50,000.

New British Bases

BRUSSELS — (AP) — British army supplies for occupation troops in Germany, are expected to start moving through Belgium early in 1952. Work was recently begun on the construction of a traffic center for the British army in the Campine area of Antwerp province, 20 miles east of the port of Antwerp.

When completed the center will cover 3,952 acres and include a gasoline dump and storage space for all types of army supplies. The installations will be dispersed in 26 locations. A few miles further east two new airfields are also under construction. They will not, however, be named during peacetime.

At present most British supplies pass through the port of Hamburg. Military tacticians, however, have decided that Hamburg is too close to Russian-controlled territory. A lunge at Hamburg could quickly cut off supplies for the British in Germany.

Parts of the first trans-Atlantic cable are still in use.

Young Skipper

CENTRALIA, Ill.—(AP)—Farm-born James L. Cox has become a U.S. merchant marine captain at 25. Ralph Cox of near Johnston City, Ill., said his son was advised that he had become the youngest merchant marine skipper. He completed in 39 months work on captain's papers that usually takes five years.

The first transoceanic cable was laid in 1866.
